Three U. S. Army Officers Die When Buildings Burn

Three Lieutenants Seriously Burned Also In Blaze At C.C.C. Camp

CAMP LOCATED AT WATERBURY, VT.

Practically All Of Youths Employed At Camp Home For Holiday

(BULLETIN)

WATERBURY, Vt., Dec. 26.—Three U. S. army officers lost their lives and three lieutenants were seriously burned today when flames of undetermined origin swept two buildings at a C.C.C. camp here.

The dead are Captain Roland Potter, former football coach and director of athletics at Norwich University, Northfield; Captain Edwin W. Boothbay of Watertown, Mass., and Lieut. Leonard B. Bushey, of Concord, N. H.

Lieutenants Injured Severely burned were Lieutenants S. M. Parsley, Charles Brooks and Charles Howard.

Lack of water and cold weather hampered Waterbury and Montpelier firemen. Practically all the youths employed at the camp were on five-day Christmas holiday leaves.

While army officials and Fire Chief W. Collins launched an investigation to determine cause of the fire, an overheated stove was suspected.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The blizzard descended upon New Castle suddenly last night. Along about eight o'clock temperature dropped rapidly, and within an hour or so several degrees below zero had been reached.

An old house that has stood in a dilapidated condition on the New Castle-New Wilmington road, just beyond Highland Heights, is being razed. It will be quite an improvement in appearance of the highway at this point.

Some Ohio drivers had the misfortune to wrap their car around a pole near the end of Highland avenue on Christmas afternoon when the machine skidded.

It certainly was a white Christmas, all right. The snow kept falling most of the day, and it was one of the most picturesque days of many holiday seasons.

There were very few automobiles on the highways yesterday, and those that were found the traveling exceedingly slippery.

Youngsters who received sleds from Santa were very pleased by the Christmas weather. They had a splendid opportunity to ride the paint off the sled-roads.

Trudging along the New Wilmington-Mercer highway yesterday morning was a man with a pack strapped to his back, obviously leg-weary and without Christmas cheer.

A flat tire on Christmas day, with the mercury hovering near the zero mark, and no service station in the vicinity was the unfortunate plight of an automobile-load of people near New Wilmington. And a passing motorist had the nerve to shout "Merry Christmas!"

Charles Scungio, of 513 Laurel boulevard, brought an oddity to Fred L. Rentz, president of The News, in the shape of three bananas grown together.

Minimum temperature, 9.
Precipitation, 1 inches, snow.

Christmas, 1935, Notable Locally In Many Ways

Out of a welter of toys and dolls and cake crumbs, Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen were emerging today from one of the best Christmas days New Castle has seen in five years. Merchants are recovering from cash register fatigue, caused by punching the sales buttons so often, clerks are beginning to get feeling back in their feet and every body seems to agree that it was a real Christmas.

From the standpoint of the weather it was one of those ideal Christmas days they had "way back yonder." Clear and cold all day long, the western blizzard arrived about eight o'clock, drifting onto sidewalks and driveways, filling the air with a cloud of fine snow, and making driving difficult.

From the reports of the stores there must have been more than the usual amount of present giving. Merchants expressed themselves as pleased with the sales totals and this went for all lines of merchandizing.

Christmas Eve saw a lot of carol singers out serenading homes with the melodies of the Christmas season, parties were held in profusion and as far as could be observed it was a real old fashioned Christmas.

One outstanding feature of the season was the scarcity of accidents. In spite of crowded streets, slippery driving and the excitement of the season, what few accidents there were, were minor.

Fear Five Are Dead In Hot Springs Fire

(International News Service)

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Dec. 26.—Smoldering ruins today delayed search for five persons feared to have lost their lives yesterday when the fire-ravaged walls of an empty theatre collapsed on an adjoining federal transient hotel in the heart of the business section.

The body of a woman guest, identified as Mrs. J. K. Love of Jackson, Miss., was recovered from the wreckage.

Mrs. Pearl Hughes, who said she leased the hotel to the government, said she believed 18 guests spent Christmas eve in the hostelry. Five persons were treated at hospitals, while seven escaped unharmed, five are unaccounted for, and it is feared they were crushed to death under the tons of brick and mortar.

Cause of the fire was undetermined. It is believed it started in the vacant theatre and raged merrily for hours before it burst through the roof with a roar. Before the adjoining hotel could be evacuated the theatre's 80-foot rear wall toppled onto the hotel, crashing thru the roof and setting the hotel afire.

Damage to the property was estimated at $250,000 today. A half dozen small hotels and business houses in the vicinity were damaged by fire before firemen were able to bring the flames under control.

Army Air Force To Be Increased

Five Hundred Fighting Planes To Be Added During Year

BRIG. GEN. ANDREWS GIVEN PROMOTION

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Announcing that the general headquarters air force will be reinforced by the addition of more than 500 fighting planes during the coming year, Secretary of War Dern today advanced Brig. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, chief of GHQ, to the temporary rank of major-general.

Secretary Dern explained that the promotion of General Andrews was in line with his desire to "give GHQ air force greater rank in the tactical scheme of the army and place it in its proper relative position with the other combat organizations which are now commanded by major generals."

"During the coming year," the War Department announcement said, "the GHQ air force will be reinforced by the addition of over 500 combat planes and the advancement in rank of its commander was considered by the secretary of war to be commensurate with the growing size and importance of the combat force of the air corps."

Contracts for many of these machines already have been let. During the past two weeks 115 attack ships, 103 fast bombers and 115 training planes were purchased. Contracts for an additional $10,000,000 worth of planes, mostly fast pursuit ships, will be awarded within the next week.

PARIS, Dec. 26.—"It's your move." This was the attitude adopted by Premier Pierre Laval today toward the British government in reference to future Italo-Ethiopian peace negotiations.

Made cautious by failure of his recent efforts, Laval, in outlining the foreign situation to the ministerial council, spoke at length on the present status of affairs but did not discuss the future French position.

Up To Capt. Eden The premier, it is understood, will not commit himself until young Captain Anthony Eden, newly appointed British minister of foreign affairs, makes the first step.

The bill of dissolution of the fascist and semi-fascist leagues which came back from the senate to the chamber of deputies this afternoon, was also discussed by the ministerial council.

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Here are the ten goofiest "news stories" of 1935:

Editors searching the files for the biggest stories of the year came upon these and decided they were the non-panels for unusualness. Here they are:

The story of Young Stephen K. Simkovitch, son of a nationally prominent social worker, who signed a contract in California to be frozen complete, then revived, "in the interests of science." The experiment was called off.

The story that the Italians had perfected a new departure in chemical warfare, a substance to burn the bare feet of Ethiopian troops.

The story that aircraftman Shaw (Lawrence of Arabia) is still alive and is now a British agent in Ethiopia.

The revelation in a Chicago trial that hundreds of Americans in the middle west had parted with thousands of dollars under the impression that they were heirs to the fabulous estate of Sir Francis Drake.

Over Thousand Trucks And Snow Plows Working To Keep Highways Open

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 26.—A total of 3,517 men and 1,096 trucks and plows, the largest force sent out by the highway department to date this year, were engaged in cinder roads and removing snow today in the wake of the state-wide storm.

The southwestern areas suffered most from the icy winds and heavy snowfall. While the fall was general, with depth ranging from one to seven inches, the department of highways said the heaviest snowfall was reported in Greene county, where it reached seven inches.

All roads were reported open and in fair condition by the department. Motorists, however, were warned to drive with caution, as many roads were slippery. In several sections the wind whipped fine snow from the highways, leaving them bare, but in other districts ice and drifting snow made driving hazardous.

The department sent out 1,372 men and 620 plows to remove snow, while 2,145 men and 476 trucks were engaged in cinder roads.

SENDS $70 To ROGERS' FUND

Local Contribution To Memorial Fund Is Forwarded By Mr. Rentz

In the mail today went a check for $70, addressed to Jesse H. Jones, National Treasurer of the Will Rogers Memorial commission, 570 Lexington avenue, New York City. The check represented the gifts of Lawrence county citizens to the fund that will memorialize the late Will Rogers in a foundation to aid underprivileged children.

The fund in this county was headed by Fred L. Rentz, president of The News. Mr. Rentz was asked by the leaders of the movement to take care of Lawrence county and he did. All contributions were sent in to him and today he sent his own check for the total of the fund gathered.

Every state in the union, every city and town in the states will be represented in the fund and it is hoped to gather an immense sum of money towards the end that underprivileged or crippled children may be aided. The originators of the movement believed that the late Will Rogers would have liked nothing better than this as a memorial to his name.

EXPLOSION RUINS HOME

MARTINS FERRY, O., Dec. 26.—The home of Oscar and Orville Lewis was a mass of wreckage today following an explosion which resulted in a fire in the adjoining home of their father, Edwin Lewis. Loss was placed at $10,000.

State Educators Are Gathering At Harrisburg Today

Annual Three-Day Session Of State Educators Draws Notables

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 26.—Educators from every section of the state were assembling here today for the opening session of the annual three-day convention of the Pennsylvania State Education association.

The opening meeting will be attended by about 600 members of the house of delegates, representative body of the association. Dr. Ben G. Graham, Pittsburgh, president of the association, will preside at the session, at which officers and convention delegates are to be nominated and a report of a committee on revision of the association constitution heard.

Sectional meetings of the various school superintendents and department heads were to be held this afternoon, but the convention addresses will not begin until tomorrow afternoon, when Dr. Lester K. Ade, state superintendent of public instruction, Agnes Samuelson, superintendent of public instruction, Des Moines, Ia., and president of the National Education association, and Louis A. Pechman, dean of the University of Cincinnati Teachers college, will be heard.

BLIZZARD RAGES CHRISTMAS NIGHT

Montana Is Reported As Coldest Spot In Nation Last Night

(International News Service)

Accompanied by sub-zero temperatures, snow and whistling blizzards, winter arrived in earnest in most parts of the country today.

Deaths by the dozen on streets and highways made treacherous by the season's first real snow and from exposure to freezing temperatures were reported.

Have, Montana, was the coldest point in the nation with the mercury standing at 16 below zero.

Pennsylvania suffered the most fatalities. In the grip of a furious blizzard, which whirled in from the middle west, the state counted 14 dead from automobile accidents. It was three above at Pittsburgh.

New York lay under a blanket of white today, but 2,600 shovellers were busy at dawn clearing the streets. During the day 14,700 relief workers were ready to join the street-scraping symphony and, incidentally, boost Father Knickerbocker's bill for having his path shoveled to more than $100,000.

SEE DEMAND FOR U. S. DOLE

Congressmen To Make Demand

Cessation Of Federal Direct Relief To Come Before Session Early

ADMINISTRATION TO CONFRONT ISSUE

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—The Roosevelt administration will face a strong demand for continuation of the federal "dole," returning members of congress indicated today.

Among those who hold that the administration cannot abandon direct relief to states and cities is Rep. William B. Bankhead of Alabama, Democratic leader of the House.

The same declaration previously was made by Rep. Taylor of Colorado, who was acting majority leader in the House last session.

Depleted state and local treasuries together with protests of taxpayers against new burdens will spur demands for further federal aid, members said.

Although the Roosevelt administration planned to take care of the 3,500,000 on works progress administration rolls, it intended to end the "dole" and turn the direct relief job over to local governments.

"It is a tremendous burden for states and municipalities," said Democratic leader Bankhead. "They are expected to bear all the burden they can and even make sacrifices. We hope the WPA and better times will reduce the load. But I believe it will be necessary for the federal government to continue some substantial form of relief outside of the WPA."

the city on Christmas night, it was not a very attractive evening for touring the city in an auto to look them over, due to the blizzard conditions.

Snow sweeping car of the New Castle Traction company was kept busy on the lines in the city on Christmas Day, keeping the tracks clear of snow in order to allow operation of cars.

Yesterday was one of the coldest Christmas Days that residents of the city can remember. While conditions were not so bad during the day, they became terrible during the evening when the blizzard struck the city. The highest temperature recorded during the day was 22 degrees.

Report is made to Pa. News that another horse and sleigh were seen on the highways here, on Christmas Day.

Large numbers of 1936 license tags are now being displayed on autos operating in this district.

Christmas eve didn't mean anything in the way of vacation to some of the drivers of trucks carrying new autos. Several consignments of cars went through this city enroute east on Christmas eve. Maybe the drivers were trying to aid Santa Claus.

And next Wednesday is New Year's Day, also the start of Leap Year.

Pa. News learns there was a sled scarcity here the day before Christmas. Everyone, it seemed, waited to see if there would be any snow, when the snow came the orders deluged the stores. One trucking concern that operates into Pittsburgh was besieged with calls from stores to bring cargoes in from that city. Working together, the shippers and the stores supplied demands and yesterday's heavy snowfall found many a new sled getting a first test.

All of a sudden, the windows of some downtown stores changed their looks over Christmas. The holiday trims were replaced by regular beginning-of-the-year displays.

Christmas carols were sung by many groups on Christmas eve and it's just a good thing the carolers didn't have weather like last night.

New Year's occupied the attention of New Castle residents today and it appeared as though the local celebrations will be gala ones. Churches, lodges and private groups are carefully planning programs for New Year's eve. Baby 1936 will hear the welcome the city will give it.

Dr. Dafoe did not allow the Dionne's other five children to romp with the quints for fear of the possibility of infection.

Nurses explained the veteran doctor had made up his mind to take no chances of any sort with the welfare of his charges.

In spite of this, the quintuplets' second Christmas was an extremely jolly one.

The five girls romped and rolled around their nursery while their brothers and sisters gaped at them in open-mouthed wonder through the window.

Mr. and Mrs. Dionne also contented themselves with peering at their celebrated offspring through the nursery window. Dr. Dafoe had no objection to their cuddling and romping with the babies, but the parents refused to do so out of consideration for the feelings of their older children.

Five Bandits Rob Bank At Columbiana

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

COLUMBIANA, O., Dec. 26.—Five bandits, armed with machine guns, today held up and robbed the Union Bank of Columbiana after throwing this community into confusion by shooting out the windows of a downtown department store.

No one was wounded in the gunfire. Clerks and other employees in the Tibbs department store fell flat on the floor as the bullets began crashing through the windows.

Amount of the loot was not immediately determined and bank officials said it would be some time before it could be ascertained.

The bandit gang drove up in front of the bank and immediately began firing bullets through the store next door.

Three of the robbers, carrying revolvers, then entered the bank and forced employees to hand over the money. One man, carrying a sub-machine gun, stood in front of the bank as lookout while the fifth remained at the wheel of the automobile. After the robbery, the bandit car sped away on Route 14, in the direction of Beaver Falls, Pa.

The car bore Pennsylvania license plates, witnesses told police.

Miss Ruth Wilkinson of Neshannock avenue, a passenger in the automobile driven by Mr. Mazur, sustained a cut on the head and arm.

In explaining the accident this morning, Mr. Mazur stated that he was operating his car towards East New Castle. As he approached Cascade Park, just at the end of the city limits, he observed a man running across the highway. Mazur stated that he tried to avoid hitting the pedestrian. The car skidded and struck a huge roller, near Cascade street. He believes the man was struck by the back of the automobile, as it skidded. The car was badly damaged.

Will Soon Open CENSUS OFFICE

Headquarters will be opened here shortly for the census of business and manufacturers to be launched on January 1, Supervisor Ralph T. Jordan, named a few days ago to head the survey in the 26th congressional district, announced today.

It is believed that Mr. Jordan will not be located in the federal building. Office space there appears scarce.

"Our enumerators are to go to work right after New Year's day," Mr. Jordan said today. "Within a few days we'll have an office open in every city somewhere. There will be a staff of about five in the office."

Motor Crashes Take Two Lives

Two In Sharon District Fatally Injured In Holiday Accidents

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., Dec. 26.—Christmas eve traffic accidents today had claimed the lives of two persons and caused injuries to several others in Mercer county.

Mike Christy, 22, Farrell, died almost instantly after his truck struck a steel pole, while George Freeman, 55, R. D. 5, Grove City, was struck and killed by an automobile driven, according to police, by William E. Eccles, Grove City.

Traffic Difficult

Motorists who were out on the highways found traffic conditions anything but likeable, the blinding snow and wind making driving difficult, while cuts made in between hills on the roads drifted badly.

State Highway Superintendent John B. Shaw stated that thirteen trucks with snowplows attached were sent out onto the roads during the night, manned by a crew of 26 men. They found drifts five feet deep in some sections and had a difficult time cutting their way through in spots. By morning, all of the main highways had been cleared.

Few accidents were reported due to the weather conditions, motorists being forced to take precaution.

Marco Polo lay in a prison in Genoa, Italy, when he wrote the account of his travels.

Federal Judge Samuel H. West, who heard their trial and pronounced sentence, granted their motion for a new trial on the grounds that they had been convicted on insufficient evidence.

Many Fire Calls For Burning Flues

Chimney Fires Occasion Three Alarms On Christmas Day Here—No Damage

Three alarms were turned in Christmas day because of chimneys burning out. There was no damage in any instance.

At 9:10 a. m., they were called to the home of Fred Wilks, of 306 West Falls street. At 8:15 p. m., they were summoned to the Morgan and Burrows garage, at 25 North Jefferson street; and at 9:50 p. m., were summoned to 202 Nemo street by an alarm from box 43.

At 5:10 p. m., Tuesday afternoon, an alarm from box 28, summoned five companies to the Temple building, where a fire had started in a waste paper basket in the rooms occupied by the Western and Southern Insurance company, caused by a lighted cigar. The fire had been extinguished by the elevator boy by the time firemen arrived at the scene.

Judge Reports Death Threat Is Mailed To Him

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 26.—Federal Judge Merrill E. Otis, who Saturday declared the Wagner labor relations act unconstitutional, today revealed that he had received a death threat for handing down his decision.

Judge Otis said he received a letter from Chicago containing a newspaper clip from a Chicago Sunday paper with his picture and the story on the opinion. The sender of the death threat had pasted opposite Otis' picture a photograph of a gun with the muzzle pointing towards the judge's likeness. Beneath the note was the inscription: "Your last Christmas."

New Trials For Alleged Bandits

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 26.—George Sargent and Tony Labrizetti, reputed Akron racketeers, who were convicted and sentenced to 25-year prison terms in the $125,000 mail truck robbery at Warren, O., last April, today won their fight for a new trial.

Federal Judge Samuel H. West, who heard their trial and pronounced sentence, granted their motion for a new trial on the grounds that they had been convicted on insufficient evidence.

DANCE IN CATHEDRAL IS BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Dances and weddings featured the social calendar for the biggest holiday of the year, Christmas, in New Castle, the festivity attracting the biggest crowd last evening being the annual party sponsored by the Junior B. P. W. girls in the Cathedral ballroom.

In the neighborhood of 200 couples were there, the affair being most brilliant and far eclipsing previous affairs given by this progressive organization of young women. Against a beautiful background of blue, with gleaming silver stars, a popular orchestra played melodious and catchy dance tunes from nine to one, with special features during intermission.

One of these was a specialty by Miss Billy Glenn, talented young dancer who presented her "Silver Tuxedo" number in appropriate costume. She was heartily applauded, as "Billy" is a favorite whenever she appears.

Decorations were carried out in seasonal colors, with a striking bit of realism added by a huge novel snowball, from which fluttered snowy flakes upon the guests as they entered the big ballroom. Serpentine streamers added other color, together with a large Christmas tree, with numerous trinkets, upon which played a big spotlight. Among the guests were many of the school set home for vacation, and several other visitors from out of town.

Serving on the committee for last night's successful party were: Wanda White, general chairman; Virginia Lee Martin, program; Mary Pelton, Janet Wedell, Elizabeth Morrow, tickets; Alice Mae Huffman, Mary Whalen, Gladie Biddle, decorations; Matilda Chapman, Harriette Truby, Jean Glenn, publicity.

RAINBOW DANCE ON THIS COMING FRIDAY

Order of Rainbow for Girls will hold the annual Christmas dance on Friday evening, December 27, from 9 to 1, in the Cathedral. The affair will interest members and friends, with a large crowd expected, augmented by the college set home for Christmas holidays.

The committee promoting the event is composed of Viola Dufford, worthy advisor, Jane Bryan, chairman, Glenna Good, Eleanor McFall, Naomi Kennedy, Mary Ellen Wray, with Mrs. F. Urey, chairman advisory board. Chaperones for the party will be members of the Advisory board Rainbow.

YOUTHFUL CROWD FIELD CLUB DANCE

A gay and merry crowd of socialites, predominantly youthful, attended the annual Christmas frolic at the New Castle Field Club last night. Many of the school set were there, over a hundred whiling away the hours from 10 to one dancing to tuneful music. Several guests were present from out of town.

Under the gracious hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. C. Leroy Shira, everybody had a good time. Seasonal decorations created a delightful setting, which added to the general festivity of the occasion.

Again on Friday night the Field Club will be the mecca for still another crowd of members and friends, the regular Thursday evening bridge being scheduled for 8:30. Mr. and Mrs. James B. Matthews will act as hosts, and after the awarding of prizes refreshments will be served.

DELIGHTFUL REUNION AT WIMER RESIDENCE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wimer, on Highland avenue, was the scene of a delightful reunion over the Yule holidays, when they had for their guests Mr. and Mrs. Honor C. Blocker, Mr. and Mrs. Don F. Russell, of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Russell, of Gary, Ind. A sumptuous Christmas dinner was served at a large table, bright with prevailing decorations. Covers were arranged for 12 guests.

Today, all of the out of town people departed for the homes, with the exception of Mrs. A. E. Russell, of Gary, who remain for a couple weeks' visit with New Castle relatives and friends.

BRIDAL COUPLE HOME FROM HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Jones have returned from a Christmas honeymoon trip to Cleveland, and are residing for the present, due to the illness of the bride's mother, at 1211 1/2 East Washington street. Later, they will go to housekeeping in their already newly furnished apartment, at 316 Boyles avenue.

Their marriage was a quiet affair of Christmas eve at 7 o'clock in the parlors of the First Christian church, Rev. G. S. Bennett officiated in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson M. Davies, attendants.

The bride, formerly Margaret D. Davies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew H. Davies, of East Washington street, was attired becomingly, in a modish dress of tea rose crepe, with white accessories and a stylish northern seal coat. Her flowers were orchids and gardenias.

Mrs. Davies was costumed in a dark blue navy taffeta dress, with harmonizing accessories, and a black fur coat. White gardenias formed her bouquet. The young couple departed immediately after their wedding for the Ohio city where they remained until Wednesday evening.

The new Mrs. Jones was graduated from the New Castle high school in 1932. Mr. Jones was graduated from Staunton Military Academy in 1932, and is now a state employee.

WILL ENTERTAIN FOR VETS' CHILDREN

Arrangements have been completed by the ladies auxiliary of the Harry L. McBride post, V. F. W., and the post members, for a joint Christmas dinner and entertainment for the children, which will take place at the Legion Home Friday evening.

A tureen dinner will be served at 6:30 sharp, which will be followed by a program of entertainment and a treat will be distributed.

Mrs. Flossie Potter, Mrs. Tempa Stickler and Mrs. Louise Evans are members of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the auxiliary.

First Baptist Party

In honor of the First Baptist orchestra members, the teachers' training class gave a Christmas party in the church on Monday evening of this week.

A festive five guests were seated at a festively decorated table and enjoyed a delicious repast, preceded and followed by the singing of carols. Adrian Heaton, home from Wheaton College, gave a nicely phrased toast to the orchestra. He, his sister, Miss Beulah Heaton, and Ray Webb, were special guests.

The committee, Miss Grace Love and Miss Alberta Davis, was assisted in serving by Mrs. Leonard Dandy.

Games were enjoyed. A present was presented by the class to its teacher, Mrs. S. J. Calahan, at one juncture of the party.

Instead of exchanging gifts the members packed baskets for presentation to a needy family.

M. N. O. Club

M. N. O. club members met at the home of Mrs. William Keeney, Pine street, Monday evening. After playing cards the awards were presented to Mrs. Edward Houk and Mrs. Wayne Berkeley.

The guests were then ushered into the dining room where they had an exchange of gifts; lunch was served shortly afterward at a table pretty in Christmas decorations.

The guest of honor for the evening was Mrs. Michael Pazzo. The next regular meeting will be January 15 at the home of Mrs. Harold Aiken, Martin street.

Guests For Christmas
Dr. and Mrs. F. F. Urey, of Laurel boulevard, had for their guests on Christmas Day, Mrs. Dana C. Williams, daughter Lolita, of Aliquippa; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Williams, of Grove City; Ronald E. Williams, of Meadville; Miss Edith Williams, of Grove City.

An excellent dinner was served in the early afternoon, and the rest of the day was enjoyed in an informal manner.

P. H. C. Party.

At a special meeting of the P. H. C., Wednesday evening in the city building plans were furthered for moving the organization's quarters to the I. O. O. F. hall. It was decided to have everything in readiness at the new meeting place by next Wednesday evening when a Children's Night will be featured for members and their friends.

Chapter Of Youth.

Chapter of Youth 48 will meet this evening in the city building. Following the usual business there will be a social time in the nature of a Christmas party for members and friends. A hamburger fry will feature.

L. L. O. L. 24.

McKEE-TAYLOR WEDDING CHRISTMAS

On Christmas Day at 3 in the afternoon, Goldie Lucille McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McKee, of East Brook, and Paul Douthitt Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Taylor, of Beckford street, were united in marriage.

The Rev. James Guthrie, pastor of the East Brook U. P. church, read the single ring service in the presence of the immediate family and a few friends, in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Scott Shoeff, of the East Brook road. Attendants were Dorothy Miller and George Gilkey, both of this city.

McKEE-TAYLOR WEDDING CHRISTMAS

The bride is a graduate of Jameson Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. The groom is a graduate of Geneva College and is affiliated with the Gulf Refining Company, at Bryan, O., where the newly weds will establish their home.

LOVELY SHOWER FOR BRIDE AND GROOM

A miscellaneous shower of lovely gifts was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minter on the Frew Mill road on a recent date, to compliment Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Thompson, whose marriage took place not long ago.

The main diversion was 500 after several rounds of which, a delicious lunch was served to 33 guests by the hostess, assisted by Mr. Harry Johnson and Mrs. Theodore McKee.

The new bride is the former Velda Moon of Butler, a graduate of the Butler high school.

CHARITY BALL ON SATURDAY NIGHT

No set rules as to dress for the charity ball at the Field Club Saturday night, Dec. 28, has been adopted, it was stated today by the committee in charge. Formal dress or informal dress was proper, so that any couples attending the ball will be dressed correctly.

The charity ball is sponsored by the Junior Guild of the Jameson Memorial hospital, the proceeds of which will be used in refurbishing the sun parlor of the hospital. Indications point to a banner crowd for the ball.

Guests For Christmas
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haggerty, of Florence avenue, entertained over Christmas the latter's sister, Mrs. Mike Schuller and daughter Georgine, of Greenville. A lovely Christmas dinner was served, a color scheme of green and red being carried out in the decorations.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. William Lang. After dinner, there was an exchange of beautiful gifts.

D., in St. John's church, Franklin at 2:00 p. m., tomorrow Friday.

Fatal Accident At Grove City

George Freeman, 51, R. D. No. 5, Dies Of Injuries In Grove City Hospital

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Dec. 26.—George Freeman, 51, of Grove City, R. D. 5, who was struck recently by an automobile driven by William Eckles of Grove City, died in the Grove City hospital Tuesday. The accident occurred one-half mile east of Grove City while Freeman was walking along the road. The driver told Coroner Applegate and Highway Patrolman Hoke that lights from an oncoming car blinded him and he did not see Freeman until it was too late to avoid the accident.

Freeman was single and was born in Glasgow, Scotland, October 23, 1884. He had lived in Grove City 13 years and was employed as a laborer at the Cooper-Bessmer works. He was a member of the Beloved Disciples church of this city. Freeman is survived by five sisters, all in Scotland.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Andrew Quirk, of the Cunningham funeral home at Grove City Saturday. The place of interment has not yet been announced.

FOUR GENERATIONS AT FAMILY DINNER

Four generations were represented at a family dinner Christmas Day, over which Mrs. R. C. Cochran presided as hostess, at her home, 23 East street.

Mrs. Cochran was the oldest person present, being 92 years of age on her birthday last August. Others were her son, Jesse Cochran; his daughter, Mrs. D. S. Preston, and her son Jesse, the latter of whom is 14 years of age. In addition to these the guests were Mrs. Jesse Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Cochran, Lewis C. Kiser and Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Rea. All members of the family were at this lovely reunion except the oldest son, William J. Cochran, who is with his family in Hollyhill, Fla.

A lighted Christmas tree was an attractive centerpiece with red tapers in silver holders adding a further bit of festivity.

Engagement Announced
Announcement of the engagement of Rose Tuscano of 808 South Mercer street, to Augustine Roselli, of 222 East Division street, was made at a Christmas eve party in the bride-elect's home. No date has been set for the wedding.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Pasquale Tuscano. The groom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Silvio Roselli.

Announce Engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Grata of Rigby P. O., announce the engagement of their daughter Ann to Joseph Wrona, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wrona of 216 Ralph avenue. The wedding day has not been set.

Star Liberty Sisterhood

Star Liberty Sisterhood 174 will have a holiday party on Friday evening, at the home of Susie Wald, on West Clayton street.

SUB-ZERO WAVE CAUSE OF MANY DEATHS IN NATION

banks of the Potomac. Snow was four inches deep and the mercury was at 6 above this morning.

Across the Alleghenies the mercury dropped low and snow drifted higher. Columbus, O., reported 7 below during the night. Six inches of snow had fallen.

Detroit had three inches of snow and the hilly districts of Michigan had much more. The mercury was 20 above at Detroit but at Alpena, Mich., it had gone to 2 below.

The mercury was dropping fast at Chicago this morning, with zero forecast and then clear weather and rising temperature for later in the day. Two persons were reported dead from the storm. The snow stopped at 7 p. m. yesterday after two inches had fallen. Highways were dangerous while trains and planes were arriving on schedule.

The forecast this afternoon for all Illinois, Iowa and Southern Wisconsin was "fair and warmer."

Extreme Cold

Extreme cold gripped the mountain states during the night. Havre, Mont., reported 16 below. Miles City, Mont., ten below. One person was reported dead from the storm at Jamestown, N. D.

Pacific coast points proudly reported moderate temperatures. At Los Angeles the mercury readings were 69-52; San Francisco, 56-50; Portland, Ore., 44-38.

A Christmas day blizzard brought death to six in Indiana. Four motorists were killed in accidents blamed on the snow. Two men died from exposure in Indianapolis where the temperature dropped below zero. It was warmer there today.

Coldest weather of the year was being experienced in North Texas where thermometers read in the 20s and in Oklahoma, 16 to 20. It was six above in Kansas City and Western Missouri. In St. Louis a low of 3 was recorded.

In Springfield, Ill., the mercury touched two below, coldest of the season, with colder weather promised.

Atlanta, Ga., reported a record low also with 12 below. New Orleans, with 34 above, was warmer but the forecast was "fair and colder" for Louisiana and Mississippi.

Charles City, Ia., shivered in 12 below weather. It was 11 below at

Farmer Frozen To Death.

A sudden cold wave, accompanied in North Dakota by a severe blizzard, was abating today as the storm's death toll stood at two dead and two in critical condition from freezing. Temperatures ranged from 11 to 22 below zero.

At Jamestown, N. D., Paul Antonowicz, a farmer, was frozen to death. Mrs. Antonowicz walked three miles when her husband was overcome by the cold, reaching a farmhouse with legs, arms and face frozen. Searchers, braving the raging blizzard, found her husband frozen to death. The horses likewise were frozen in their tracks. Mrs. Antonowicz may not live.

Near Bismarck, John Goodman, state representative of the Federal Insurance Deposit corporation, was frozen to death. In St. Paul an unidentified Christmas celebrator was found unconscious from the cold.

Pennsylvania Hard Hit
Paralyzing sub-zero temperatures gripped Pennsylvania today as the Keystone state reeled under the blow of a winter blizzard that roared in from the west on the wings of a gale that a times reached a velocity of 70 and 80 miles an hour.

At least 24 more hours of the frigid weather that caused intense suffering, especially in the western section of the state, was forecast by the weather bureau.

Johnstown reported a low of six below zero while Ebensburg reported 13 below. An unofficial low of 20 below the zero mark was reported from Salisbury, Somerset county.

Despite the intense efforts of state highway crews, many roads were reported impassable because of drifts. Virtually all country roads in the western section were closed.

An unidentified man was frozen to death in a dump near Pittsburgh while 15 persons perished in automobile accidents throughout the state during the holiday blizzard. Many were injured.

Hundreds of cases of frostbite were treated at hospitals.

The mercury fell to four degrees below zero at the county airport near Pittsburgh at 3 this morning. A low of zero was reported in the downtown section at 11 o'clock last night and in the early morning the mercury had managed to climb back to a bone-chilling six above at the Pittsburgh Weather Bureau.

Philadelphia froze under a fast falling 11 degrees with the city blanketed by snow. Holiday automobile deaths reached seven there.

Two Dead In Auto Collision
Two deaths were reported by central Pennsylvania in a collision on an icy highway.

Unofficial readings in the Pittsburgh district this morning ranged from three above at Aspinwall to 10 below on the Horseshoe Curve on the Perry highway near West View. It was five below atop Mt. Washington, four below in Mt. Lebanon and four below in Crafton, McKees Rocks, Sharpsburg and Wilkensburg.

Scores of automobiles were snow-bound along the highways. In the western section, snow was drifted over their hoods and tops in many instances. Radiators froze by the thousands throughout the state.

A Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph photographer out on assignment found his camera useless. The shutter had frozen.

At Elizabeth the Monongahela river was a solid sheet of ice from bank to bank. Residents said it was the first time in three years the stream had frozen.

Power interruptions paralyzed street car traffic in the South Hills section in Pittsburgh for more than half an hour today, causing discomfort to many passengers who waited in the cold.

SMALL HIGH SCHOOLS
HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania still has 43 high schools where only one teacher is employed, the department of public instruction reports. Eighty-one secondary schools employed only two full-time teachers in 1934. Approximately half of the 1920 secondary schools employed fewer than nine full-time teachers.

The Richest Man.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

HALF OF LIFE is spent in dressing, undressing, eating, sleeping. One-third is spent in childhood and early youth getting ready to begin. Another long stretch is used up getting ready for the grave and wondering what is on the other side of it.

Opportunities for doing something are few, and 1936, so close at hand, is one of the few. The nearness of New Year's Day should make ambitious young men nervous as a good horse on the morning of a race.

UNIVERSAL SERVICE lists the "ten greatest scientific achievements in 1935" and puts first the artificial heart "for keeping organs alive, when separated from the body."

This invention, credited to Col. Lindbergh and the learned Dr. Carrel, of Rockefeller Institute, may be important, letting scientists study the progress and nature of cancer and other diseases.

But, that is not the year's greatest scientific achievement, although it is gratifying to know that Col. Lindbergh, while still so young, with no more "air" to conquer, has turned his concentrated mind toward science.

VASTLY MORE important than any invention for studying human diseases is the new 200-inch telescope.

THAT YOUNGER GENERATION

JUST HAD a talk with a teacher, a professor in a university. . . A scientist. Not a fuzzy-minded theorist who makes large generalizations from insufficient data, but a thoughtful and observant man, who studies small animal life, takes his time about reaching for a conclusion and doesn't jump at it.

So I asked him what he thought about the younger generation, about the boys and girls (or men and women) in his classes.

First of all, he said, they're different, and it isn't easy for their elders to understand them. They call them rude, selfish, arrogant, self-willed, and they worry about them and their ways and prophesy disaster.

Well, they are different. They have dropped off a lot of the ways young people had toward each other. If you're an older woman and three boys are walking along the sidewalk toward you, they'll probably not get out of your way. They may not even see you. They don't deliberately intend to be rude, but they're too interested in their own affairs to bother about superficial politeness.

They're rude to each other, too. If a boy and girl come into a room together and there's only one chair and it's nearer to the boy than to the girl, he sits in it without thought and she can stand up. . . And her feelings aren't hurt. . . And they say just what they think to each other, and if a fellow can't take it, that's HIS lookout.

The scientist had noticed, too, how startlingly open they are in casual caresses as they walk about the campus.

BUT—
I like them, said the teacher. They may be rude but they're square with themselves. They meet their problem squarely and bravely. They don't whine, they're not full of self-pity—and they're NOT weak. . . They're stream-lined and if the younger generation's contours aren't what you expect or approve, nevertheless this youth HAS PLENTY OF POWER. . . And the world will use it!

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight, 4:41. Sun rises tomorrow, 7:21.

It is estimated that about forty thousand people will have been killed in the United States during 1935. Also about a million were injured. A new year resolution will not help those things much, but punishing those who kill and maim recklessly will go a long way towards reducing those deaths and injuries.

"Have you noticed a very odd thing about blunt people?" Freeman asked his friend.

"Can't say that I have," said the latter. "They are certainly rather embarrassing at times."

Freeman nodded pensively. "Yes, but hasn't it ever struck you that they are the ones who generally come to the point first?" he said.

Another thing that often effects a man elected to public office is a nice swelled head. He just lasts until the voters get another chance to swat him. The past few years show that plain enough for any person to see with the naked eye.

Unless the cities hurry up and balance their budgets offices are going to have a tougher time seeking the man.

The automobile license plates do not seem to cut much figure when it comes to identifying the cars of crooks. Those who see the bad boys in action are evidently so badly scared they cannot remember what

Now we are told the best way to identify crooks is by the dental work on their teeth. They can be dug up years after they are dead and the teeth will be there to tell the tale. Of course it seems to us the dentist will have to be around to identify his work. He can do it easy if it is not paid for.

Dec. 26, 1776—Americans led by Lieut. Gen. George Washington defeated a German army. Having secretly moved his 2,400 men across the Delaware on Christmas night, Washington fell at dawn on Col. Johann Rall's 1,500 Hessian mercenaries at Trenton as they were sleeping at a Christmas carouse. Rall was killed, 1,500 of his men made prisoners and 1,200 badly badly needed rifles and six cannon were taken. Unless this happened, the British thought they had the Revolution won, and had ordered Gen. Cornwallis and his army home!

Few of the Hessian prisoners ever went home. Most remained in the U. S. to help set up the republic they had fought against.

Dec. 26, 1786—American revolutionists turned against American government, threatened to overturn it within a year after the revolution against the British was won. Several thousand in Massachusetts and New Hampshire rose and sought to upset the new regime, which they considered controlled by aristocratic exploiters of the poor, and sought force issuance of unlimited paper money. Militiamen were defeated in skirmishes and the government was forced to send an army of 4,000 under Gen. Benj. Lincoln against the rebels.

Dec. 26, 1799—Henry Lee (father of Confederate General Robert E. Lee) in a memorial service for the first president in congress, first uttered an immortal characterization: "First in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen, and second to none in the humble and unobtrusive scenes of private life."

The World At A Glance

Did Herbert Hoover Err?
Brings Up Bank Question.
Machine And Progress.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th St.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Strategists in both major political parties undoubtedly are agreed on one matter—that former President Herbert Hoover made an error in trying to blame the 1932-33 bank crashes on fear of Roosevelt.

Mr. Hoover called attention to a subject people just were beginning to forget.

And he opened the way for the Democrats to spring his bank record on him—in contrast to President Roosevelt's.

Here is the record:
During the Hoover administration, 6,038 banks were forced to close (aside from the closing temporarily of all banks).

Of those, merely 703 were closed after Mr. Roosevelt had been elected.

Under three Republican presidents—Messrs. Harding, Coolidge and Hoover—there were 10,504 bank closings.

During the Roosevelt administration, merely 179 banks that were re-opened in 1933 have been closed.

And 1934 and 1935 have made new low records—57 and 29, respectively.

There has been no major bank failure during the Roosevelt administration. Instead, many that previously had been closed have been paying off depositors—of whom this writer is one.

It is a problem that ties in directly with the social problem. Unemployment is a whole share in technological development, the machine can bring on a collapse.

Buying power now (conservative economists warn us) is chiefly a matter of government spending.

men to the left say, because the social structure has been left unpaired—and men fear to modernize it.

Certain it is, economists assert. Certain spending nor the cessation of spending will be a solution.

MACHINE AND PROGRESS
If great strides in mechanization continue without due compensation, workers will rise up against mechanical progress.

A railroad union recently forced the Burlington railroad to have two electric trains in the cabs of its Zephyr electric trains, although one man was sufficient.

Would it have not been wiser for the company to pay one man more, and to go on building these reasonably operated trains, thus being able to reduce fares so that more people would ride—and more men be employed, at a higher rate, than now?

Biggest Dirigible Will Soon Make First Flight

By ERIC BOY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Dec. 26.—The biggest dirigible in the world has been completed in the construction hangar of the Zeppelin Airship Building Corporation here and will take the air on its maiden and trial flights early in January, officials said today.

The LZ-129, as the ship is provisionally known until permanently christened, probably the "Field Marshall Von Hindenburg" will fly the south Atlantic first and the north Atlantic afterwards.

Plans Trip To U. S.
Dr. Hugo Eckener hopes to take the ship across the ocean shortly after its first trial flights. By spring, he hopes to accomplish the first trip to the United States, and thereafter start a regular passenger and mail service with the new ship and the Graf Zeppelin between Germany and South America.

Designed by Dr. Ludwig Duerr, the LZ-129 represents the last word in lighter-than-air aviation. The ship has perfect stream-lining and Dr. Duerr explained, is the first dirigible in the world built exactly for passenger requirements.

The air giant is 840 feet long with a maximum diameter of 130 feet and accommodates 50 passengers and a crew of 43. Its four diesel engines of 1,050 horsepower each give it a top speed of 90 to 100 miles per hour with a cruising speed of 85 miles per hour.

Twice Size Of Graf
It is almost twice the size of the Graf Zeppelin, now seven years old and boasting a proud record of covering distances equal to encircling the globe 43 times.

Passengers are accommodated in 25 cabins with two beds each, luxuriously furnished and providing electric light and heating as well as running hot and cold water. With the spacious smoking and bar rooms they give the impression of a fashionable small hotel rather than an airship.

The furniture represents a compromise between lightness and comfort. Wood has been discarded as far as possible and replaced by aluminum alloys. Only walls and floors of the passenger quarters are made of wood. Paintings on silk decorating the walls depict scenes in the development of aviation.

The sixteen gas bags inside the metal structure have been filled with hydrogen and are carefully inspected daily for leaks. When the ship reaches the U. S. naval hangar at Lakehurst on the first visit to the United States, the hydrogen will be replaced by helium. Thereafter the ship will be almost non-inflamable and non-explosive.

Crude oil is used for motor fuel.

The danger of fire is considered so remote that, for the first time on a dirigible, smoking will be allowed on the LZ-129.

The four diesel motors have been constructed specially by the Mercedes-Benz Motor Works. Each of the 16-cylinder motors develops 1,050 horsepower. They have been turned carefully and running without interruption for days to the complete satisfaction of the dirigible builders.

After the first test flights, the ship will travel over the greater part of Germany, and then, after further inspection and adjustments, will start its first trans-atlantic flight.

Chinese Students Steal Train For Trip To Nanking

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Dec. 26.—Rebellious students today stole a railway train to carry to Nanking their protest against Japanese dominations, as martial law was declared in Shanghai, Nanking and Hankow in the crisis caused by the assassination of pro-Japanese Tang Yu-Jen, one of the right-hand men of former Premier Wang-Ching-Wei.

Japanese and Chinese police were doubled throughout Shanghai, while international police were ordered to track down the two unidentified Chinese who put three bullets into Tang as he stepped from his motor car outside his house.

Still more strict measures were expected because of this latest tragic defiance of Japan's orders that anti-Japanese activities must be stamped out.

Calendar Fans See Good Year

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Dec. 26.—Without reservations, calendar fans pronounce 1936 to be the best of years, as it concerns the average man. These victims of "calendaritis" are enthusiastic in their praise of the leap year arrangement.

First, they point to the extra day, which falls on Saturday. This means girls have an entire week-end at their disposal for beguiling the wary boy friends into entering the wedded-bliss division.

Then, they point to four double holidays, due to Washington's birthday, Memorial Day and the Fourth of July coming on Saturday, and Labor Day, adhering to its custom of averting labor except for housewives gas station employees and baseball umpires, on the first Monday ball games. Although not legally recognized as such, another week-end "holiday" is listed—Halloween, this being the occasion when porch furniture, gates and even decorated autos are started on holiday trips from their owners' premises.

As though all this wouldn't be enough, they cheer the superstitious by listing only two "jinx" days. These are Friday, March 13, and Friday, November 13.

The first eclipse of the moon is set for January 8-9, with a total eclipse of the sun June 19, a partial lunar eclipse on the night of the Fourth of July and the annular sun eclipse comes December 13-14. Although war is in the air, Mars will be bright at any time in 1936.

Two Killed As Truck And Car Come Together

Investigate Crash Of U. S. Mail Truck And Passenger Car

(International News Service)
JERSEY SHORE, Pa., Dec. 26.—Lycoming county authorities and the state highway patrol today were investigating the collision of a U. S. mail truck and a light sedan in which two men were killed and three injured at an icy intersection about 15 miles from here.

Joseph Lacey, 42, Williamsport, and Graden English, 35, Waterville, both of whom were riding in the passenger car, died of fractured skulls. Charles Hilborn, Waterville, driver of the sedan suffered a compound leg fracture as did Wallace Wolf, Jersey Shore driver of the mail truck.

Five Have Close Call From Death

(International News Service)
FAIRMONT, W. Va., Dec. 26.—Members of the Norman A. Elmslie household today were recovering from the effects of carbon monoxide poisoning suffered while they prepared Christmas dinner.

Those taken ill were Elmslie, superintendent of the Bethlehem Mines Corporation plants in West Virginia, his wife, Mrs. Julia Ward Mason Elmslie, her mother, Mrs. J. Ward Mason and two maids, Pearl Saunders and Iloa Coleman.

Cuts Hand Trying To Kill Chicken
(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., Dec. 26.—With 365 more days until Christmas, Andrew Beers, 34, of Greensburg, R. D. No. 6, today was determined his next Yuletide dinner would not consist of chicken.

While preparing the family's Christmas dinner, Beers chopped his hand instead of a chicken's neck and was rushed to the Westmoreland hospital.

Was Retired As General Manager Of Road's New York Zone New Year Ago

J. F. Patterson, 64, retired general manager of the Pennsylvania railroad's New York zone and one-time superintendent of the Erie & Ash-tabula division here, died Christmas Day in New York.

Mr. Patterson came to the superintendency here on March 1, 1920, from the superintendency of the former Akron division, and left to assume the superintendency of the Eastern division on March 1, 1925.

Born at Alliance, O., on January 8, 1871, Mr. Patterson entered the Pennsylvania service as a messenger on the Eastern division on April 1, 1884. When he retired over 50 years of service to the system.

Known among Pennsylvania men as "J. P.," Mr. Patterson was one of several E. & A. superintendents of the past to rise to distinguished positions in railroading. As general manager for the Pennsylvania in the New York zone he was in general command of traffic and operations of the trains in that busy metropolitan area.

Word of his death reached E. & A. offices here early this morning.

scope lens that will enable men to study the universe more intelligently. That universe is more important than any cancer or gland.

ANOTHER scientific achievement mentioned is the supposed discovery that "the brain thinks by means of a certain natural electricity."

That is interesting, but not very important. It does not explain what Michelangelo's brain was doing when he painted the frescoes on the Sistine Chapel, or what Shakespeare's brain was doing when he wrote "King Lear."

When you define "the greatest" scientific achievement, you must first define the word "great."

THE NIZAM of Hyderabad, one of the numerous rulers whom the British keep on their thrones in return for a servility that delivers the subjects to the British, is about to celebrate his silver jubilee as ruler.

He interests Americans because he is called absolutely the richest man in the world, richer than Rockefeller, Ford or Mellon.

His income is put at fifty million dollars a year, which might be possible, although his real fortune bears no interest.

He has 14,000,000 Hindu subjects under his rule, thanks to the toleration of Great Britain, and after England has finished with the 14,000,000 they might well yield an average per year of $4 to the Nizam, which would give him $56,000,000 a year of new money.

WHAT EXCITES the imagination of cupidity, and might make some of our able racketeer kidnapers bump their heads against stone walls, is the fact that this Nizam is supposed to have buried in his vaults two hundred and fifty million dollars in gold bars, in addition to two thousand million dollars' worth of precious stones, mainly diamonds and rubies.

THINK WHAT the man would be worth if all that "wealth" had been bearing interest for the last few hundred years. And how interesting to remember and think that he, the Nizam, with all his gold and diamonds, amounts to nothing in this world, for all his money.

It is what you do on the earth, not what you have buried under it, that counts.

ALFRED P. SLOAN, Jr., head of General Motors, announces Christmas distribution of $5,000,000 among workmen as an "appreciation fund." Each of 200,000 employees will get $25 cash, that sum being given to every man who was on the company's payroll on July 1, 1935.

Twenty-five dollars extra at Christmas, when turkeys are high and children want toys, is convenient. It may not be as much fun as it would be to "arise ye prisoners of starvation," and throw off your chains.

But if you haven't got any chains to throw off, and you are not a prisoner of starvation, you might as well take the $25. Also you might be glad that an enlightened management distributes $5,000,000 among 200,000 workers, instead of adding it to dividends or adding it to some management "bonus."

A LEARNED German, Nazi type, discovers that the old German god Wotan would be much better for Germans than Jehovah, God of the Jews.

Those that have heard Wotan, with a patch on his eye, singing his weary way through the Wagner's "Twilight of the Gods" would not agree with the German, Hans Obermeister.

HERR OBERMEISTER treats the Bible roughly, calls it the work of man, "badly done," calls Jewish translators "rascals and swindlers," finds that the most important characters in Christian history never existed.

Long ago in Paris there was published La Bible Comique. "The Comical Bible," Robert Ingersoll wrote eloquent against it, but the Bible and men's belief in it outlive them all, and will outlive Herr Obermeister.

TWENTY-NINE bombers of the United States Army flew from California to Florida in 21½ hours of flying time, establishing a record. This is not as important as it might be, because they had to stop three times on the journey.

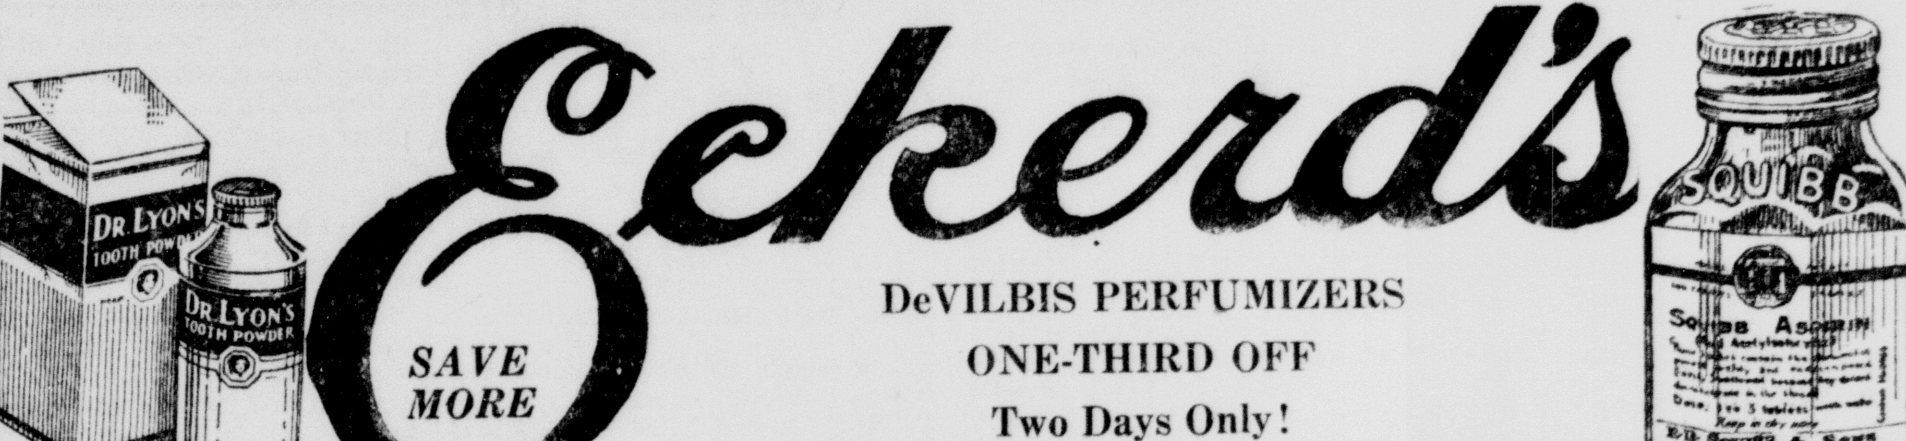

What is needed is a bomber that will fly the Atlantic Ocean and the Pacific, if needed. This government ought to build such bombers, even if that cost money. It has the money.

Hopkins-Ickes Battle Resumes
Two Department Heads At Odds Over Balance Of Work-Relief Fund
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Re-natal of the battle between PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes and WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins for the balance of the $4,000,000 work relief fund which has not already been definitely allotted or obligated was foreseen here today.

Hopkins already has asserted the $1,140,000,000 allotted to his organization by President Roosevelt will not be enough to keep WPA going until next July 1, end of the present fiscal year.

Ickes also has announced he "hopes" to get more funds for the permanent type of public works projects which he favors.

In the drive to provide jobs for 3,500,000 employable heads of families and single persons from the relief rolls, PWA and other governmental agencies failed to show the necessary speed and WPA was turned from a "checking" organization on other agencies to a projects organization.

As a result, Hopkins launched a myriad of quick-starting, short time projects, which have provided 2,678,629 jobs, while other governmental agencies, exclusive of CCC have provided but 266,858 jobs.

PWA officials, however have not given up hope of obtaining more than the $343,000,000 allotted to Ickes for his non-federal-loan and grant projects.

There is a woful number of unnecessary deaths from appendicitis.

Will Inspect State Prisons

State-wide Inspection Will Start After First Of Year

WILL INQUIRE INTO HAZARDS

HARRISBURG, Pa.—General inspection of all city, borough and township lock-ups, throughout the State will start soon after January 1, Ira C. McCloskey, director of the bureau of corrections of the State Department of Welfare, announced yesterday.

In addition to the more than 700 lock-ups, jails in the State's sixty-seven counties also will be inspected. Particular attention will be devoted to fire hazards, sanitary conditions and segregation facilities.

Reports on fire hazards will be submitted to the Department of Labor and Industry for the necessary action while reports of sanitary conditions will be forwarded to the Department of Health.

Director McCloskey pointed out that although persons are held for comparatively brief periods in the lock-ups, which frequently are located in police stations, fire stations and municipal buildings many thousands pass through them annually, and that it is essential to eliminate fire risks and absolutely preclude contact with or spread of disease that might jeopardize the health of a community or be directly traceable to temporary confinement in an unsanitary lock-up. It is proposed to begin the inspection in eastern counties.

Graded Potato Marketing Grows

Substantial Progress Being Made By State Potato
Growers

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Substantial progress in the marketing of graded Pennsylvania potatoes is reported by the Pennsylvania Bureau of Markets.

Potato growers in many of the important potato counties of Pennsylvania realizing that the highest market returns are often received for graded potatoes shipped in from other states, have set up co-operative grading and marketing organizations in an effort to improve local demand for high quality Pennsylvania potatoes.

Grading demonstrations held under the direction of extension specialists of Pennsylvania State College have helped farmers meet the grade requirements as demanded by the market in greater volume today.

Radiologist Gives Hand For Science

(International News Service)
PARIS—Dr. Eugene Beaudard, famous French electro-radiologist and victim of his own experiments with radium, has now lost his right hand and in return been awarded the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

Minister of Public Health Ernest LaFont went to Dr. Beaudard's bedside in Diaconesses hospital here immediately after the operation and informed him that in recognition of his sacrifices to science the president of the Republic had awarded him a decoration.

The 62 year old radiologist has already resumed work at the Bichat hospital—without so much as a days recuperation.

Alcoholism Is Fatal To Man

(International News Service)

Bruno's Counsel To Assail Reilly's Conduct Of Case

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—When C. Lloyd Fisher, chief counsel for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, appears before the New Jersey court of pardons to plead for commutation of the death sentence hanging over the German carpenter, he will take a verbal fall out of his predecessor, Edward J. Reilly, it was learned today.

Fisher, it was said, will charge Hauptmann's defense at his Flemington trial was "grossly mishandled" by Reilly, who is a criminal lawyer of long experience.

Fisher will object especially to Reilly's admission during the trial that the child's body found four and one-half miles from the Lindbergh home at Hopewell, N. J., was that of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

When the question of corpus delicti came up at the trial Reilly astounded Fisher by conceding readily that the body identified by Col. Lindbergh was that of the Lindbergh child. Fisher stalked over Reilly and fumed:

"You're conceding Hauptmann to the electric chair!"
Reilly, a shrewd and practiced attorney, subsequently explained his reason for this procedure. As a veteran of years in criminal courts, he recognized that any attempt to contest the identification of the body would mean that witnesses would go on the stand with locks of the child's hair, articles of clothing, to identify the infant.

Among these witnesses, held in readiness by the prosecution, was Mrs. Dwight Morrow. Production in court of relics of the deceased are generally dreaded by criminal lawyers because they emphasize the horror of the crime.

This was thoroughly understood by Reilly, and no contest over the identity of the body was ever staged in the Flemington court.

State Board Buys More Game Tracts

HARRISBURG, Dec. 26.—At a meeting of the board of game commissioners recently, the purchase of 15 tracts of good game territory was approved. The tracts aggregate 9,752.5 acres. Purchase contracts have been entered into for all of the tracts.

Titles for the respective tracts will be examined to determine whether they are in satisfactory condition for conveyance to the commonwealth. The boundary lines will also be surveyed to determine their location on the ground and the exact acreage of each tract. No tract will be paid for until these necessary preliminaries are properly taken care of.

The tracts approved for purchase are: 5,515.7 acres in Carbon and Monroe counties, 1,200 acres in Westmoreland county, 410 acres in Venango county, 232.8 acres in Bucks county, 164 acres in Butler county, 95 acres in Warren county, 800 acres in Lycoming county, 335 acres in Erie county and 1,000 acres in Huntingdon county.

Truck And Bus Regulations To Be Changed Soon

New Rules Will Eliminate Some Dangers In Night Driving
ARE EFFECTIVE FIRST OF YEAR

HARRISBURG, Dec. 26.—Passing large buses, trucks and trailers on the highways of Pennsylvania will be much easier for the night driver in 1936, Harry E. Kalodner, Secretary of Revenue, declared today in calling attention to the new identification, clearance and marker lamps which must be displayed on such vehicles after January 1.

All buses, trucks, trailers and semi-trailers or combinations of such vehicles more than 80 inches wide or more than 30 feet long must display identification lamps front and rear. These lamps consist of a row of three green lights from six to twelve inches apart mounted across the front of the body at the top and a similar group of red lights at the rear. The lights must be of sufficient intensity to be visible at 500 feet.

Overhead Lights
The appearance of three green lights visible above the tops of intervening cars is intended to warn the motorist that a vehicle of great length or width is approaching, while three red lights indicates that he is overtaking such a vehicle. Lamps of this nature have been voluntarily displayed by many commercial operators in the past but will be mandatory on all such vehicles after January 1.

With the sole exception of buses with continuously lighted interior operated entirely within municipalities, all vehicles more than 80 inches wide must display two clearance lights mounted at the extreme left side, one at the front and one at the rear. The front light must be green and be visible 500 feet from the front, and the rear light must be red and be visible 500 feet from the rear. Heretofore such lights were required only on vehicles more than 90 inches wide which affected relatively few vehicles as the maximum body width permitted by the motor code is 96 inches. These lights are intended to aid the motorist in correctly judging his clearance when passing extremely wide vehicles and thus minimize the possibility of side-swiping.

Side Lights
All vehicles or combinations of vehicles more than 20 feet must display four side marker lights. One green light on each side near the front and one red light on each side near the rear. These lights must be of sufficient intensity to be visible 500 feet when viewed at right angles to the side of the vehicle. They are intended to make the vehicle visible to motorists approaching from intersecting highways.

Vehicles equipped with acetylene headlights may display similarly colored reflex reflectors mounted in the same manner instead of identification, clearance and marker lamps.

So far this year 312 accidents resulted in five deaths have occurred in Pennsylvania because of tail light failures. To guard against such failures on commercial vehicles which normally are frequently overtaken by swifter-moving passenger cars, every bus, truck, trailer and semi-trailer will be required to display a red reflex reflector which shall be visible 500 feet from the rear. This requirement will affect approximately 275,000 vehicles including the smallest delivery trucks as well as the small trailers frequently attached to pleasure cars.

INQUIRE INTO STATE GAME LAWS

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Pennsylvania Game Commission attaches weight to three officials from the Michigan Conservation Department during the three-day antlerless deer season. The visitors, including H. D. Ruhl, Chief of the Division of Game in that state, and Messrs. Sayre and Bergin of the same department, made a tour of the northern tier counties in company with Richard Gerstell in charge of research for the Pennsylvania Commission.

GOOGLES SUPPLIED
HARRISBURG—More than 35,000 pairs of goggles have been supplied by the State Department of Highways for use on WPA projects under department jurisdiction. Foremen are directed to segregate work requiring goggles so that the supply may be adequate. Strict orders have been issued for the use of goggles on all jobs which represent potential eye injuries.

Hunt New Clues In Mystery Death Of Thelma Todd

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Dec. 26.—A triple search of new clues in the strange death of Thelma Todd, glamorous film star, was launched here today as new evidence added further mystery to Hollywood's most bizarre death case in a decade.

Grand jury members and district attorney investigators, probing the possibility of "murder by monoxide," announced they were searching especially now for a San Francisco business man said to have been Miss Todd's last "heart interest," a "Blonde Double" who was mistaken for the ray star by witnesses, and a "mystery automobile" in which witnesses have said they saw Miss Todd after police say she was dead.

Since Dec. 16, when the famous comedienne's silk clad and bleeding body was found in the front seat of her car behind closed garage doors, investigators have been presented with a maze of clues which has led them from mystery to baffling mystery.

Warns Dog Owners To Buy Licenses

Dog Law Enforcement Investigator Is Here On Tuesday

John Mateer, of Mosgrove R. D. 1, Armstrong county, state dog law enforcement investigator for Armstrong, Butler and Lawrence counties, who was in New Castle Tuesday stated that dog owners should immediately procure their licenses for the coming year.

The 1936 dog licenses and tags are now in the hands of the county treasurer, he said, and the law requires that all dogs six months of age or over must be licensed on or before January 15, or just as soon as they become six months of age. After January 15 a vigorous canvass will be made and any person found who has failed to procure his license will be prosecuted and subject to a fine of $5 to $100 and costs or thirty days in jail or both.

Investigator Mateer said that no serious damage by dogs has been caused to livestock and poultry in Lawrence county recently, but both Butler and Armstrong counties have had losses. In the past week there were eight sheep killed in Armstrong county and five in Butler county.

Fire Threatens East Side Home

Members Of Family Flee Scantly Clad In Fire Late Christmas Night

Fire threatened the home of Henry M. Allen, of 805 Chestnut street, shortly after 11 o'clock last night, when an electric light bulb, placed in the bathroom, which is built into the house, set fire to the home. Damage amounted to around $100, covered by insurance.

Members of the family had just retired for the night, when Miss Helen Allen smelled smoke, and investigating, found the bathroom ablaze. She summoned her parents and called firemen. A second alarm was sounded when it was feared the fire might spread, but firemen succeeded in confining the blaze to the bathroom. Mrs. Allen and daughter were forced to go to the home of neighbors, scantily clad, while firemen fought the blaze.

Re-Registration Work Under Way

Professional Groups In State Must Re-Register First Of Year

HARRISBURG, Dec. 26.—Annual re-registration for approximately ninety thousand professional and non-professional men and women is now under way in the Department of Public Instruction. Superintendent Lester K. Ade announced today.

All physicians, dentists, barbers, beauticians, real estate brokers and salesmen, engineers and surveyors, optometrists, osteopaths, and veterinarians must be re-registered by January 1 for the new year.

The work of registration is being conducted by the Bureau of Professional Licensing in the Department of Public Instruction, of which Dr. C. E. Ackley is director. All applications for re-registration will be mailed out by December 20.

NEW STATE RELIEF DIRECTOR IS APPOINTED

Philadelphia Man Selected

Karl De Schweinitz Will Succeed Robt. L. Johnson In January

NEW OFFICIAL IS WELFARE WORKER

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Dec. 26.—Karl De Schweinitz, Philadelphia, will succeed Robert L. Johnson as state relief administrator, it was indicated here today as preparations were completed for a meeting of the state emergency relief board on Monday, when formal ratification of the new director's name will be made.

De Schweinitz, recommended for the post by Gov. George H. Earle, had been reported as the likely successor to Johnson since his appointment to the chief executive's advisory relief committee a few weeks ago. The Philadelphia has had a long and prominent career in social and welfare work in the state.

Convincing Evidence
Recommendation of De Schweinitz was made by the governor while on a visit to Wilson G. Sarig, speaker of the House of Representatives, at the latter's home near Reading. Announcing he would recommend the appointment of De Schweinitz at Monday's meeting, Governor Earle said:

"Mr. De Schweinitz' appointment should be convincing evidence that I am keeping my inaugural pledge to keep politics out of relief in Pennsylvania. Administration of unemployment relief is the outstanding problem confronting my administration today. It has been and will be kept out of politics."

Although a registered Republican, De Schweinitz was said to be independent as a voter. He is regarded primarily as a social worker, however, and from the first consideration of his name as relief administrator, it was pointed out his appointment would continue the governor's policy of keeping the position free from politics.

Going to Europe
Johnson, who has resigned the relief post effective December 31, also is a Republican, brought here from Connecticut by Governor Earle to head the relief program for one year. He was named Monday to represent President Roosevelt in making a survey of European relief conditions and plans to go abroad some time next month.

"Mr. De Schweinitz is one of Pennsylvania's outstanding figures in the field of social service and philanthropy," Governor Earle said in commenting on the choice. "As executive secretary of the Family Society of Philadelphia for 12 years, part of his 22 years in the field of social service, he won a pre-eminent position in his chosen career."

"His fitness for the tremendous responsibility of state relief administrator is evidenced by his work in the Family Society, as well as in the discharge of his duties as executive secretary of the Commonwealth Council of Pennsylvania, as director of the Pennsylvania School of Social Work and as professor under the William T. Carter Foundation at the University of Pennsylvania. Mr. De Schweinitz will bring to his new duties an experience unexcelled among his fellow Pennsylvanians."

FUND HAS PROFIT
HARRISBURG.—The amount of receipts in excess of disbursements in the state employees' retirement fund as reported in the office of David L. Lawrence, secretary of the commonwealth, during the month of November is $116,926.05.

See New Effort To Involve U. S.

European Nations May Seek To Make U. S. Scapegoat For League

OIL EMBARGO IS DANGEROUS ISSUE

By KINSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Danger of a new European move to make the United States the scapegoat for the League of Nations in the Italo-Ethiopian war crisis was seen here today.

Fear prevailed in authoritative quarters that if Great Britain again moves for imposition of an oil embargo and other drastic sanctions against Italy, France will seek to side-track the move by insisting upon definite commitments from this government concerning its willingness to participate in such an embargo.

If these commitments are not forthcoming from this government, and there is no indication they will be, France is held likely to ballyhoo lack of American cooperation as an excuse for not enforcing the oil embargo.

Advisers received at the state department here indicate Premier Laval of France still fears imposition of an oil embargo against Italy means war with Premier Benito Mussolini. The French Premier is understood to be still opposed to any such risk and determined to resort to any possible means of averting it. American officials here have reason to believe the question of this government's attitude will be one of the first, if not the first, avenues of escape to which he will resort.

Accuse Man Of Taking Locomotive For Wild Joy Ride

(International News Service) MATTOON, Ill., Dec. 26.—Maurice Spurlin, 32, is still trying to remember just what happened as he sits in a jail cell here.

He told police he couldn't "remember a thing about it." So when he appears before the judge, officials of the Illinois Central railroad will tell him that: Full of Christmas spirits, he went on a lark with a borrowed Illinois Central locomotive.

Spying a locomotive, with steam up, standing in the yards here, he jumped in, yanked the throttle wide open.

The big iron steed, with the amateur engineer tooting the whistle for dear life, breezed through the yards, clattered through an open switch, another, and another, until it hit the main line.

Suddenly, with a terrific bump and a resounding crash, the chugging, puffing locomotive came to an abrupt stop, the throttle still wide open. The engine cab of a freight locomotive was nearly impaled on Maurice's borrowed steed.

The freight engine crew of three jumped when they saw what was coming. Maurice wasn't so fortunate. It took a wrecking crew to extricate him, uninjured. Damage, the railroad estimated, is $2,000.

War Closes Down Big Italian Pool

(International News Service) MILAN.—The new municipal indoor swimming pool here, reputed to be one of the three finest in the world, has been ordered closed during the present national crisis in order to effect economies in light, power and heating.

The swimming pool was opened in October 1934 and occupies an entire building newly erected on the site of the old railroad station torn down four years ago.

It has an electrically operated sectional sliding roof of translucent glass, a visitor's gallery of concrete similar to a grandstand which surrounds the pool itself and 1,000 small individual dressing rooms.

Up to the time of its closing, aquatic fans could disport there winter and summer because an elaborate heating system kept the water as a pleasantly cool temperature the year round.

Charles Styers On Championship Team

Charles Styers of New Castle, was a member of the championship soccer team of CCC camp S-101, Ridgeway, Pa. Styers played inside left position on the team, and his fine playing was a large factor in winning the championship.

In winning the championship of Sub-District Seven, the team went undefeated all season, and were tied only once.

WOMAN STRUCK BY AUTO; NOT INJURED

Mrs. Susanna Schassberger of R. F. D. No. 3 was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 11 o'clock last evening by David Kay of Fairfield avenue after Mrs. Schassberger had been struck by Mr. Kay's machine as she was walking along the Pulaski road. An examination at the hospital revealed that Mrs. Schassberger had not been injured, and she was taken to her home.

MANY DEER KILLED

HARRISBURG.—Recent reports to the Department of Forests and Waters show that more than 1,100 deer were killed in the state forests of Potter county during the first week of the hunting season this year. Potter county contains 250,000 acres of state forest land, which is 50 per cent of the total forest area of the county, and 38 per cent of the entire area of the county.

Imbibing large quantities of iced drinks does not cool one.

HARRISBURG.—Prosecutions for violation of the game laws reached a new high peak during November, at which time 481 cases were settled. Almost every type of violation occurred, although the primary ones included hunting without licenses, especially by non-residents, killing hen pheasants, illegal killing of deer and exceeding the daily bag limits.

Small Amounts, If Saved

Recently a gentleman who runs a neighborhood store came to our office and bought three shares, $300, of Full Paid Stock in our Association. He paid for it, out of a bag he carried with him, in—three twenties, one ten, eleven fives, one two, eleven ones, two hundred and three half dollars, two hundred and forty quarters, and five dimes.

He stated that the entire amount came from small sums put away when not immediately required, the currency being the result of making change for neighbors.

The above $300 makes a total of $2000, he has invested here, all the result of small savings.

A good way to save small sums is by the purchase of Monthly Payment Stock in this Association, which puts the savings to earning interest promptly.

Thirty-Three Of Film Stars Are Married In 1935

By GRIFFING BANCROFT, JR.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 26.—Cupid ran riot through the Hollywood film colony in 1935.

He recorded 33 more marriages among celebrities and other players than in 1934. Foremost of these were the marriages of Joan Crawford, ex-wife of Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., to Franchot Tone, actor, and of Claudette Colbert to Dr. J. J. Pressman, Christmas eve.

Many of the celebrities took their vows at Yuma, Ariz., Hollywood's favorite Gretna Green, where they could avoid the three-day wait required by California's "gin wedding" law.

The first marriage of the year was that of Ann Power, the beautiful brunette actress who eloped with Leslie Robinson, film executive.

Defy Superstition
Defying superstition, Betty Boyd, glamorous actress, Jan. 13, married Mason B. Olmsted.

Other marriages included: Jocelyn Lee and James Seymour; Josephine Hutchinson, Wampas baby star, and James Townsend; Patricia M. Crawshaw, British actress, and John A. Findlay of London; Gary Leon and "Tut" Mace, both famous dancers.

On St. Valentine's day Lois Moran of the screen and stage, married Clarence M. Young, who was assistant secretary of commerce in charge of aeronautics under Herbert Hoover.

Weds Business Man
Then came the marriage of red-haired Helen Mack, shortly after she had achieved stardom through selection as a Wampas star. She married Charles C. Irwin, an Irwin, N. Y., business man and widower.

A few days later W. S. Van Dyke, noted film director, wed Ruth Mannix, niece of E. J. Mannix, a film producer.

Judith Allen, formerly the wife of "Gus" Sonnenberg, heavyweight wrestler, married Jack Doyle, handsome young Irish heavyweight prize fighter.

Fred Perry, world's tennis champion, wed Helen Vinson, beautiful new blonde movie star; Ada Williams Inc., one-time Miss America, and Ray Dodge, distance runner; Julianne Johnston, actress, and David Rust of Detroit.

Director Weds
Ernst Lubitsch, famous director, and Vivian Gage, Jayne Shattuck, Wampas baby star, and Henry Topping, Jr., eastern socialite; Winfield Sheehan, millionaire producer, and Maria Jeritza, the opera singer.

Katherine Williams, Wampas baby star, and Prof. Dan Vandragen at Everett, Wash.; Kay Button, actress, and Eddie Cronjager, comedian; Sam Coslow, the song writer, and Esther Muir, former wife of Busby Berkeley; Inez Courtney and Luigi Filasi.

Sylvia Sidney, dazzling Paramount star, and Bennett Cerf; Sally Blane and Norman Foster, formerly the husband of Claudette Colbert; Anita Thompson and John Quillan.

Geneva Mitchell and Harry J. Bryant; Alice Moore, daughter of Alice Joyce, and Felix Knight; H. Van Loan, scenario writer, and Bozenna Eyndove, and Darling Ann Darling and Arthur Stebbins.

See Real Battle For New York's G.O.P. Delegate

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—A free-for-all Republican contest for control of New York's 94 votes in the Cleveland convention was assured today after Rep. Hamilton Fish, Jr., announced he would campaign for a Borah-instructed delegation from the Empire state.

The contest will attract the attention of every political leader, as the nomination of Senator William E. Borah, Idaho's constitutionalist, would be certain if he won New York's delegation. Consequently, even the Democrats will be watching the battle.

Thus far, friends of other Republican possibilities have been working in New York "under cover." With Fish on the open, fighting for a Borah instruction, friends of other candidates will have to enter the contest or face the possibility of conceding the delegation to the Idahoan.

One of the most interesting features of the pending contest will be the struggle of prominent Republicans for places among the states "big eight" delegates-at-large. Four years ago there were 11 of these positions of honor but the state lost three of them by going Democratic in 1932.

Blood Tests For Couples Applying For "The" License

(International News Service)
HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 26.—Connecticut's new marriage laws, requiring blood tests of prospective brides and bridegrooms, becomes effective tomorrow.

After today no marriage license applications will be accepted unless they are accompanied by certificates showing the bride and bridegroom to be free from social diseases.

Although the new law does not actually become effective until the new year, licenses applied for tomorrow cannot be issued before Jan. 1 because of a statute requiring a five-day wait.

Report Increase In Farm Receipts

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 26.—An increase of $20,000,000 in cash receipts from the sale of farm crops, livestock and livestock products during the first 10 months of the year in Pennsylvania compared with 1934 was noted today in a report by J. Hansell French, secretary of agriculture.

The receipts were estimated at $177,392,000 by the federal bureau of agricultural economics. This was 13 per cent above last year's figure of $157,396,000. Estimates do not include receipts from the sale of nursery and greenhouse products which represent about eight per cent income from agricultural production they state.

MY NEW YORK
By JAS. ASWELL

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Success Stories: Grace and Paul Hartman, who ridicule the classic and profane attitudes and gyrations of the dance with the same light-hearted fervor Groucho Marx applies to grand opera in his new film are paradoxically popular with the sassiest set—the very folk of whom they poke sky fun. Because it's the soup-and-fish contingent that swoons with joy whenever some boy and girl born in the Bronx dress up prettily, assume Spanish names and chase each other around the floor making faces while an expensive orchestra plays a waltz. And it's the top-hat-and-Twenty-one group that performs on the dance floor itself like a bunch of stale pretzels trying to look like absent-minded mummies.

But when the Hartmans, with just enough burlesque to let the audience know they aren't serious shows them what they admire and how they look, those same gilded ladies and gentlemen burst into screams of laughter.

The comic dance is one of the most difficult of the arts for its practitioners to lift out of the milieu of small-time vaudeville. Probably Jimmy Savo did it most notably. The Hartmans did it almost by accident.

They were hanging around Sioux City, Iowa, dreaming big dreams when a Gilbert and Sullivan road company came to town. The director gave them a small dance routine in "The Gondolier," and feeling that no one was paying much attention anyhow, they parodied the steps to the point of foolery.

A vaudeville agent saw them and the climb began. Came Radio City in New York, many night clubs and a long engagement in London. They're glad now they didn't try to pursue seriously the terpsichorean old hat which has so many—too many—devotees.

A name, long-spoken, caught my ear and curiosity the other night during a drop-in at the Stork Club. The name "Sophocles"—a strange, enough appellation even as a nickname.

But it was no nickname. It belongs to a dark-haired, alert-eyed young man—Sophocles Venizelos, son of the former strong man and premier of Greece, Eleutherios Venizelos, now exiled but hopeful, I hear, of recall by the new King George.

Sophocles is no pampered youngster taking the grand tour. He is here as a member of the French bridge team, which has been meeting a national match in an international match engineered, with proper ballyhoo by the indefatigable Joe Jacobs, fight promoter. I am told he plans making a career of the pastebards; and why not? Ely Culbertson's bank account might stir the envy of many career diplomat or Wall Street plunger, too.

New Relief Head Lauds Gov. Earle, Pledges Support

Will Keep Relief Free Of Political Entanglements Says De Schweinitz

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26.—Karl De Schweinitz, prominent Philadelphia social service and welfare worker, today pledged himself to the task of administering relief in Pennsylvania.

De Schweinitz's appointment to succeed Robert L. Johnson, whose retirement as head of the state emergency relief board becomes effective January 1, was announced by Gov. George H. Earle and will be submitted to a meeting of SERB on Monday for formal ratification.

Comments Earle.
Declaring Gov. Earle's attitude toward unemployment relief is one to "command loyalty and support," the probable future Pennsylvania relief administrator issued a statement announcing his paramount interest would be the securing of "some kind of a continuing set-up" for both relief and social security, with installation of "civil service status" for employees of the department.

"The governor's proposal of a citizens' committee to study the whole question of relief and security and devise plans for the future of those public services is a far-sighted step, and the job of the next relief administration will be to carry on the work which has been so ably inaugurated and maintained by his predecessors until a continuing and relatively permanent organization can be established," De Schweinitz said.

He added:

"Although unemployment is decreasing, there will be a substantial residue of persons who will need relief for a long time to come, and it is helping to develop the best possible means to aid these individuals and families that interests me.

Non-Political.
"Governor Earle has told me that he wants the relief organization to be absolutely non-political in its administration and in its appointments. He has asked me for no commitments of any kind and I have made none."

Explaining his advocacy of "some kind of continuing set-up" for both relief and security, De Schweinitz told International News Service the problem of correlating the work of federal, state and local governments is the most important facing relief authorities today.

Security Program.
"The federal government," he said, "has set up a security program in the form of legislation and relief administration in the states. The question now is what is the relation be-

Adult Education Classes To Start

Make Arrangements For Organization Of Classes In New Castle

Adult education classes under the Works Project Administration will get under way in Lawrence county some time after the first of the new year, it was said today. Classes are to be organized beginning December 27 and E. V. Martin, county supervisor of adult education under the WPA, today announced the dates of organization and the classes to be organized.

Friday evening, December 27, between 7 and 9 o'clock, the following classes will be organized in the corner North Street school at the corner of East and North streets. Classes here, in common branches, high school branches, courses of college grade including English, arithmetic, social sciences, advanced mathematics, mechanical drawing, parent education and commercial subjects.

Monday evening, December 30, between 7 and 9 o'clock in the Lincoln-Garfield school, Americanization and citizenship classes. Tuesday evening, December 31, between 7 and 9 o'clock in the Mahoning school, Americanization and citizenship classes.

All persons interested in these courses or in others not mentioned above are urged to report according to the schedule indicated. These classes must be organized at once if the funds are to be available.

Superintendent C. C. Green of the New Castle schools, and chairman of the emergency council for education, recreation and youth, is co-operating in the organization of the adult education classes.

As in past years, the school district of the City of New Castle, will co-operate by furnishing the buildings where the classes will meet.

Additional adult classes will be organized in various parts of the county. Information can be obtained from local supervising principals or members of the Emergency Education council.

Italians Bomb Ethiopian Troops

(BULLETIN)
ROME, Dec. 26.—The Italian air force operating on the Somali front today bombed a concentration of Ethiopian troops near the junction of the Dada Parma and Ganale Doria rivers at Dolo. It was announced in the government's daily official military communiqué.

Ethiopians were believed to be advancing toward Italian lines in this sector.

The communiqué also announced a skirmish in the Danakil region in which Ethiopians were routed by Italian Anakil warriors, leaving five dead and six wounded.

Charges Fired At Administration By Republicans

Republican Congressional Committee Unloosens Verbal Barrage

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—The administration today was under heavy fire from the verbal political guns of the Republican Congressional committee and the American Liberty League.

The Republicans hurled charges that the Democrats were using relief money to build up a political machine. The Liberty League charged the administration with "gigantic waste" and proposed a 12-point legislative program to "put the government's house in order."

Records Prove Charges
Intended as a reply to President Roosevelt's Chicago speech in which he assailed "political profiteers," the Republican Congressional committee's statement asserted the administration had used its power to "coerce and intimidate" those who oppose its plans and policies.

"The fact of the matter is—and the record proves it, the New Dealers are themselves the outstanding attempting-to-be political profiteers of the country," the statement said. "They have been playing politics with relief. They have sought, through the use of relief money, to build up the New Deal political machine."

Gov. Hoffman Does Not Contemplate Bruno Reprieve

(BULLETIN)
TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 26.—Gov. Harold C. Hoffman does not "contemplate a reprieve at the present time" for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted of the Lindbergh baby murder, in the event the New Jersey court of pardons acts unfavorably on Hauptmann's plea for clemency, it was announced at the governor's office today.

"The governor has authorized me to say," stated William S. Conklin, Hoffman's press aide, "that at the present time he does not contemplate a reprieve for Hauptmann should the court of pardons refuse clemency."

Archaeologists Report Findings

University of Cincinnati Expedition Explores Ancient City Of Troy

(International News Service)
CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 26.—Back from digging in the ruins of ancient civilization, University of Cincinnati archaeologists today made an important announcement concerning one of the greatest stories of all time.

They had been looking into the streets and alleys of ancient Troy, the city whose fate was sealed when Trojan King Priam's son, Paris, judge in the first beauty contest, slipped the golden apple to Venus.

They found the skull and bones of a Trojan who probably had witnessed the return of Paris with Helen, owner of the face that launched a thousand ships.

Marks Of Fire
This Trojan may have fallen victim in the dead of night when the wily Ulysses and his men slipped from the wooden horse and put the city to the torch.

The archaeologists found the marks of the fire but no evidence of incendiary origin.

The topless towers of Ilion were buried low, they found, but not as low as heretofore thought. Today's announcement made by Dr. Carl W. Blegen, field director, was that Homer's Troy, the Troy where Cassandra prophesied truly, but was never believed, where Achilles slunk in his tent and then chased Hector twice around the walls, is the seventh and not the sixth city built on the site.

Proceeds of life insurance policies paid upon the death of the insured are exempt from the payment of federal income tax.

Unemployment Views Aired

Reasons Are Cited At Recent Gathering Of People's Lobby

SAYS TAXES ARE BEARING US DOWN

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S. Street

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—With business decidedly improving, why does not unemployment appreciably decrease?

The People's Lobby went into this question at a recent luncheon in Washington. This particular lobby, so called, of which Professor John Dewey is head, generally classes as a radical organization. The views expressed in its gathering here probably will be regarded by orthodox folk as extreme. Nevertheless, the speakers did offer a solution, which I haven't heard from any other source, of the puzzle of reviving business with but little revival in employment.

Leading part in the discussion were taken by ex-President John H. P. of the American Economic Association, Dr. Colston E. Warner of the economics department at Amherst and Executive Secretary Benjamin C. Marsh of the People's Lobby.

ONE VIEW

"The capitalistic system," said Dr. Gray, "has broken down, never to run again."

It has maintained an operative semblance, continued the doctor, through the governmental pouring "of billions of borrowed money into banks and other financial institutions," and through payments "of billions to farmers to reduce production."

"But it has done nothing," he added, "to cause our resources to be employed for use and not for profit."

That is to say, explained the doctor, while there has been a high degree of co-operation in the industrial world (not so much so in agriculture), the benefits of this cooperation have gone almost exclusively to the capital back of the concerns which have practiced it; not shared with such concerns' workers or with the buying public. Consequently, asserts the economist, profits have been funneled so fast into capital's hands that capital has nearly all there is of it; it no longer has adequate markets; folks would like to buy but they're cleaned out. Business, to be sure, is being pumped up by the government's spending of borrowed dollars, but capital is grabbing too large a share of the profits from these borrowed dollars, too, the doctor charges.

ANOTHER VIEW

Parenthetically:
Dr. Gray may be a radical, but the late Editor Thomas F. Woodlock of the Wall Street Journal certainly wasn't; he resigned a federal office to which President Calvin Coolidge had appointed him, on the ground that the Northamptonian was too liberal for him.

Yet I heard Editor Woodlock, not so long ago, attribute the depression to the fact that American capital has, for generations, gobbled too large a proportion of America's production. He estimated that capital is entitled, economically, to about 2 per cent—but has been getting 6 or 8 per cent or more; altogether too much of a concentration, he argued.

SPECULATION DESIRED

But Dr. Gray does not especially blame the government.

The government, he says, "can't do anything until popular opinion changes. We have become a nation of speculators. All the people want is recovery—that is, a restoration of old conditions" (boom conditions).

Well, such a return, he observes, "is impossible, and, if not impossible, highly undesirable."

TEACHING FORCES CUT

Dr. Warner spoke for the federalization of education.

Education more properly a state function? That, he said, "may be."

"But we must face the fact," says the Amherst professor, "that a majority of the states are unable or unwilling to provide for the needs of youth in the present emergency. Teaching forces have been cut, equipment is insufficient, school terms have been drastically reduced in many areas."

"The national youth administration's appropriation is but a drop in the bucket, compared with the real needs of the situation."

"Fifty millions will only scratch the surface of youth's requirements."

TAXES BEARING US DOWN

"Our tax system," said Secretary Marsh of the People's Lobby, "is keeping millions unemployed, and millions more below adequate living standards."

"Since the depression started more than $35,000,000,000 in taxes have been collected from people with incomes under $2,000 yearly, and most of it from people with incomes under $1,500."

"Most of those $35,000,000,000 would have been spent for goods and service, if they hadn't been taken by tax collectors."

Secretary Marsh isn't so much an advocate of high income imposts. He's a single-taxer.

FIREARMS LICENSES
HARRISBURG—Reports in the office of David L. Lawrence, secretary of the commonwealth, show that 1,868 licenses were issued to carry firearms during the month of November. There were also 2,801 provisional registrations of firearms.

Careless Farming Methods To Bring Barren U. S. Areas

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 26.—Careless farming methods will result within the next century in barren areas in the United States as unproductive as desert lands, Dr. John L. Rich, of the University of Cincinnati, predicts. He is associate professor of economic geology in the College of Engineering and Commerce.

"By removing vegetation on a wholesale scale, by cutting the forest, and plowing the fields we have upset nature's delicate balance between slope, rainfall, and vegetation cover, with the result that very serious erosion and destruction of the soil on which agriculture depends is taking place," Dr. Rich declares. "In many regions the destruction is so rapid that all the fertile topsoil will be removed in from twenty to seventy-five years. Nearly one-fourth of the tillable land in the United States has been either destroyed or seriously damaged already."

The prevention of soil erosion is one of the greatest problems before us today. The most effective method seems to be to modify the crop program that slopes subject to erosion are kept covered with thick-growing vegetation.

"Grass and similar crops which keep the soil covered all of the year permit a minimum of erosion, while corn, cotton, potatoes, or any crops which keep the ground unprotected and require frequent cultivation often lead to rapid destruction of soil."

New French Tax Hits Tourists Again

(International News Service)

PARIS, Dec. 26.—Business interests on the French Riviera are protesting another one of Premier Laval's decree-laws.

In various tourist districts of France and particularly on the Riviera it is realized that the new decree raising the fee for foreigners' identity cards from 100 francs to 220 francs will prevent a large number of foreign visitors from staying more than two months in France.

Since the tourist trade has persistently fallen down during the past three years, the new decree-law, it is feared, will bring about the closing down of various hotels, restaurants, night-clubs and casinos which were already struggling along under a heavy burden of taxation.

On Court House Hill

County Treasurer William O. Pitts has received a letter from Joseph J. O'Neill, chief of miscellaneous licenses at Harrisburg, in which he says that there has been a delay in printing the 1936 fishing licenses. Fishermen who can't wait until the licenses arrive can get temporary licenses by forwarding $1.50 to O'Neill. This will entitle the fisherman to fish until January 15 by which time the temporary certificates will be replaced with permanent license and button.

(International News Service)
PARIS, Dec. 26.—A former French government commissioner of the Saar, has been sentenced to three years' imprisonment and fined 2,000 francs at Metz on a charge of spying.

He is Robert Ritz, aged 28, of Sarrebruck. It was alleged against him, that having squandered 60,000 francs paid to him for his work in the Saar plebiscite, he attempted to recruit a service of spies among non-commissioned officers of the Metz Garrison.

Grid Coaches Ready To Open Annual Session

American Football Coaches Association Members Go To New York City

SATISFIED WITH RULES IN 1935

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Headed by Mr. Bernie Bierman as president, which seems no more than reasonable since he had what was probably the finest of all football teams this year, the American Football Coaches association is on its way into town today for forty-eight hours of amiable bluster about a sport which seems to feel that socially and intellectually they ought to be made to use the tradesmen's entrance. That is, all they have to do with football is see that it is played in a manner so attractive that it sells out the joint every time it has anything better than Upsala versus Ypsilanti.

Otherwise, they are not allowed to figure at all, except to remove the hat and come in at the finish of the rules committee meeting to hear how they, the committee, have positively fixed everything up this time by turning the goal posts sideways. This might be done, at that, on the claim that it would remove the main objection to football, which happens to be a pair of seats behind the goal posts.

No Major Changes
Outside of that, it is a wholly satisfactory game as it was being played at the close of the current season and, for this reason, it is unfortunate that the coaches can't at least vote on whether they've decided to play next year with an old inner tube to prevent kicking on fourth down.

The coaches, I have reason to believe, are satisfied to play the game by the rules now in force, this statement being made "because I personally presented a possible rule change to most of them—having to do with a graduated system of scoring on the kick, run or pass after touch-down—and almost without exception, they turned it down. They did so, they said, because they felt the rule, while not perfect, should not be changed again, even to the matter of getting back some of the features that they themselves believed should be part of football.

However, the rules committee, after going into three days of seclusion at Absecon, N. J., will undoubtedly do something. As a matter of fact, after three days at Absecon, you're lucky if you don't do more than go home and assault the butler.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Tony Herrera exhibited much of the cleverness and wallop that he displayed years ago yesterday, and he not only knocked down Lew Feldman of New York twice, but took the decision from him in a 10-round bout at Pittsburgh. Only a short time ago Feldman performed a similar stunt on Herrera. Red Bruce scored a two-round knockout over Anson Green in the semi-final.

Scoring in the opening and closing minutes of play, Elmira, N. Y., high defeated Miami, Fla., high, 13-0, in the Christmas day football game at Miami, Fla.

Al Ettore, young heavyweight of Philadelphia, defeated Ford Smith, cowboy heavyweight from Montana, in a 10-round bout at Philadelphia yesterday. Benny Bass, former featherweight king, stopped Johnny Craven in the second round. They milled as lightweights.

Har-Brack Hi Here Friday

New Castle High "Red Hurricanes" Will Be After Fourth Victory

New Castle high school "Red Hurricanes" basketball team will make a try for the fourth straight floor victory in their gym Friday night when they meet the fast Har-Brack high team. The preliminary game will start at 7:30 o'clock.

The Bridenbaugh passers have taken three straight from Sharpsville, Grove City and Sharon and are out to make it four tomorrow night.

Fine Combination.
The combination of Johnnie Carik and Dal Mumford at the forwards, Gromes at center and Cabas and Toscano at guards is one of the smoothest that New Castle has had for many years. The snap and dash that the boys displayed against Sharon high was very noticeable. There is a marked improvement this year in the playing of Dal Mumford, who is destined to become a ranking star in the W. P. I. A. L. this season.

Harry Toscano at guard is a tower of strength on the defense. Cabas has been playing a very fine game at guard, and Johnnie Carik is his usual self at the other forward.

New Castle will play Erie East high at the Washington high gym on next Monday night, December 30, and then swing into the section three W. P. I. A. L. card on January 3 at Washington high with New Brighton high as the opponents.

WOODLOT TRIMMING
HARRISBURG—The cutting of fuel wood from the farm woodlot is, when carried out in the proper way, one of the most practical methods of improving the forest, increasing its growth and reducing fire hazards. Dr. James F. Bogardus, deputy secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters, said today. Obtaining fuel from the farm woodlot should always be carried on with a view to improving the condition of the remaining stand, he said.

Sports Events In 1936 Will Draw Millions

Millions Of Fans And Millions Of Dollars For Sports Events

BOXING GAME ON WAY BACK

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The year 1936 promises to set a new all-time high in attendance at sports events, gate receipts and athletic accomplishments and promoters are already laying plans to reap a rich harvest from the American public's ever-increasing appetite for sports.

Mike (20th Century) Jacobs, Dan (A. U.) Ferris, Jimmy (Madison Square Garden) Johnston, Jack (Pachyderm) Curley, Les (Rangers) Patrick, Bill (Pro Tennis) O'Brien, Ed (Yankees) Barrow and others interested in sports promotion assure us the coming year will amaze the world.

Three Factors.
They attributed the ever-growing demand for sports action to three factors: (1) The sensational performances of individual stars such as Joe Louis in boxing, Tommy Hitchcock in polo and Dizzy Dean in baseball; (2) the growth of international and intersectional competition as exemplified in polo, tennis and football; and (3) an increasing fan population, augmented yearly by the hundreds of thousands of youngsters leaving school and college and by the newly aroused interest of women in athletics.

Comments Given.
A few comments will serve to show you what sports promoters have in mind.
Mike Jacobs: "You ain't seen nothing yet. Louis against Schmeling and Braddock will draw over $3,000,000. A guy like Louis puts new life in the fight game and you'll see new interest all over the country and a lot of young kids taking up the game."

Dan Ferris: "An Olympic year always increases interest in sport. Sport lovers all over the world become athletically conscious in an Olympic year and as usual we'll have a new crop of stars and new records. The athletes always outdo themselves and we'll have a lot of youngsters coming up to challenge such established stars as Glenn Cunningham, Jesse Owens and others."

Les Patrick: "Hockey is enjoying a banner year and the growth of the game in the United States is amazing. The time is surely coming when there will be as many Americans as Canadians in the major league."

Ed Barrow: "Numerous deals already made or in the making assure ready races in baseball next year. Fans like to see new faces. They hate to see old timers like Cobb and Ruth go, but they soon learn to attach themselves to new stars."

Basketball Drawing.
So it goes all along the line. Basketball is drawing unprecedented crowds everywhere. Polo is finding hundreds of new players throughout the country and the intersectional matches will pack 'em in to the Robin Blue stands at Meadow Brook next June.

Tennis, with the Davis cup as an incentive, and the added lure of the pro game is expecting a banner year. Even wrestling plans to stage a come-back and football—with the south and southwest arising to challenge the might of the east and west—and with a record number of intersectional games already scheduled—will surpass all previous attendance marks.

Boys Get Pheasant With Slingshot

(International News Service)
KENIA, O.—Charles Ashton and Paul Marshall, high school freshmen, are the envy of veteran sportsmen in the Cedarville area. Full of hope but armed only with slingshots and accompanied by a small dog, the young nimrods invaded a field alive with adult hunters recently. Suddenly a cock pheasant flew up and the boys, taking quick aim, let go simultaneously with their primitive weapons. Wounded, the pheasant fluttered to the ground, to be poured upon by the boys hurried to the spot. Proudly the young hunters carried away their live prize, much to the chagrin and disgust of eight or ten grownups who had experienced indifferent luck.

Trojans Finally Win Grid Battle

(International News Service)
HONOLULU, T. H., Dec. 26.—With one holiday victory already safely tucked away, the University of Southern California Trojans who whipped Kamehameha Prep Alumni eleven yesterday 33-7 before 10,000 Christmas Day football fans, today prepared for another Island clash on New Year's Day when they meet the University of Hawaii here.

SKIER DOES SALTY STUNTS

Hannes Schroll, holder of nearly 100 international ski records, cavorts on the largest salt hill in the world, on the southern end of San Francisco bay near Newark, Cal. Schroll does his stuff on salt as easily as on snow. He will be an Olympic team member in 1936.

Methodist Church Class Has Christmas Party At Shanafelt Home

A large, brightly lighted Christmas tree was only one of the many beautiful decorations that served to spread the yuletide spirit throughout the home of Mary Ellen Shanafelt, on West Madison avenue, as she entertained members of the Bell Ringers class of the Methodist church at a Christmas party.

A very merry time was had playing bingo, prizes falling to June Wilson, Betty Dove, Margaret Parker, Mary Louise Jolley and Ruth Frie. A short business followed, in charge of the president, Mary Louise Jolley.

Later in the evening a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. W. C. Shanafelt and Ina Cooper. Bernice Butts was showered with a collection of handkerchiefs in honor of her birthday anniversary. Also of great interest was the exchange of gifts. Betty Dove was a special guest of the evening.

The next meeting will be January 17, at the home of June Wilson on North Cedar street.

Racing Starts At Santa Anita

Racing Season Opens At Famous California Track

(International News Service)
SANTA ANITA RACETRACK, ARCADIA, Cal. Dec. 26.—Happily augured by an overflowed crowd on its opening, the Los Angeles turf club's second annual racing season was off to a glorious start here today.

Feature race on today's card, the second day of the meet, is the $10,000 juvenile stake, in which Barnsey, owned by Joe E. Brown, is the ruling favorite.

When the $1,500,000 racing plant with its $300,000 of new improvements, threw open its doors for the opening day yesterday, 45,000 avid fans swarmed over the grandstands. And they were not disappointed.

Bigger Business
In the featured Christmas handicapping, the favorite A. A. Baron's Top Row, ran a beautiful race to take first money. He paid $4.80 and set a new track record of 1 minute, 4-5 seconds for the mile.

But what pleased officials most, and what seemed to them to forecast a happy season, was the fact the track handled $492,435—about double the amount handled at last year's opening.

Although Discovery and Cavalcade are looked upon by many as the best bets for the meet's big race—the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap February 22—Top Row yesterday served notice he is a serious contender.

Elmira High Upsets Miami In Grid Game

Christmas Day Game In Sunny Florida Goes To New York Staters

(International News Service)
MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 26.—The Elmira high school football team today was virtually the leading secondary school team of the country as a result of its 13 to 0 victory over Miami high school in the annual intersectional "Coca-Cola Bowl" classis here yesterday.

The victors, New York state champions, scored early in the opening period and in the last few minutes of play.

Stanford Team Grows Serious

Coach Thornhill Orders Laughter To Cease At Grid Practices

WANT TO UPSET SOUTHERN TEAM

By GEORGE T. DAVIS
International News Service Sports Writer

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 26.—The "laughing boys" are here.

It's no laughing matter with a determined group of 21 Stanford gridgers who arrived today to complete the squad and start local training for their game with Southern Methodist in the Rose Bowl on New Year's day.

A year ago Stanford players earned the nicknames of "laughing boys" because of their lack of seriousness in practice sessions, but "they days are gone forever" and it was a serious-minded squad that was called to report to Brookside Park for the first workout this afternoon, after a brief rest at their hotel.

Quit Laughing

Two defeats in "s many years in Rose Bowl games have ranked these "laughing boys." They are just as keen as ever to make good in their final game of their careers.

Eight of the gridgers in the starting lineup, Bobby Grayson, fullback; "Bones" Hamlin, halfback; "Monk" Moscrip, end; Keith Topping, end; Bob Reynolds, tackle; Larry Roubie, guard; Woody Adams, guard, and West Muller, center, will write "finis" to their collegiate careers.

They will be matched in this respect by ten of the eleven Southern Methodist regulars, all except quarterback Sprague, who will play their final game for the Mustangs on New Year's day.

County Floor Teams Are Idle

There will not be any Lawrence county league or section 22 games until January 3. The schools of the county are enjoying a short vacation before swinging into the tough basketball program that awaits them.

The following county schools are members of section 22: Wampum, Bessemer, Mt. Jackson, Shenango, East Brook and Union high. The Union high team will also play a section 18 schedule.

DeSOTO

takes no chances with your safety!

First and foremost, De Soto is built for safety. Whereas even today some cars do not have safety-steel bodies and hydraulic brakes... every De Soto built has had these two necessary safety features.

The only way De Soto could build safer cars was to improve on these already established features. They more than meet all requirements.

SAFETY-STEEL BODY. The 1936 De Soto body is safety-steel throughout... mounted directly to the rigid frame, with insulation between.

An entirely new type of construction in the steel pillar posts makes the safety-steel body fifty per cent more rigid.

The top is insulated so that it serves also as an antenna for the car radio... improving reception immeasurably.

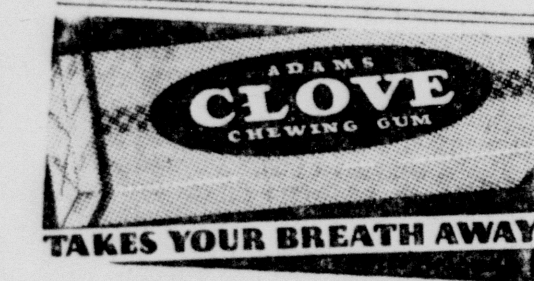

DE SOTO HYDRAULIC BRAKES are genuine hydraulics. Your stopping power is in exact proportion to the pressure of the foot on the pedal. Centrifuge brake drum linings wear two to five times longer... saving you many dollars in renewal expense each year.

SAFETY VISION LIGHTS for night driving. Controlled by the foot, they direct light from the center of the road toward the right edge, when passing cars. They ease your eyes... prevent the common cause of accidents in night driving.

Anyone who drives a car can afford a DeSOTO $695 AND UP AT FACTORY

Air Pollution Drive Started

Seek To Make Air Breathed By Industrial Workers, Safe

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Dec. 26.—A war against air pollution, enemy of thousands of the nation's industrial workers, was declared today by the Air Hygiene Foundation of America, Inc., supported by 30 of America's most important industries.

In the Mellon Institute, two laboratories and offices were prepared for occupancy by the Foundation, which will investigate diseases of the pulmonary system. Industrial dust—invisible foe of life and health—will be the first antagonist.

Will Seek Cause. The scientists in charge will attempt to discover what causes occupational diseases of the lungs—such as silicosis—and how to prevent them. In doing this, they believe they will discover methods of minimizing other health hazards, such as the smoke-laden atmosphere of modern cities.

The study of kionology, the science of dust, will have as its object, according to a spokesman of the institute, "to minimize air pollution of every kind."

H. B. Meller, former dean of the school of mines, University of Pittsburgh, who has been in charge of the city's smoke abatement program for 15 years, will supervise the investigation in an honorary capacity.

STATE LABORATORY WORK INCREASES

HARRISBURG, Dec. 26.—During the first ten months of 1935, the laboratory of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, received 484,887 animal and poultry specimens for diagnostic examinations of transmissible diseases. The specimens were distributed as follows: Cattle, 182,600; horses, 329; mule, 20; swine, 190; sheep, 840; goat, 23; dog, 2139; cat, 43; rabbit, 5; deer, 5; fox, 6; chicken, 297,672; turkey, 707; duck, 35; goose, 2 pheasant, 218; pigeon, 9; canary, 5; miscellaneous, 79.

Standard Oil of California Denies Trading With Italy

"Not Trading With Either Italy Of Ethiopia," Officials Say

(International News Service) SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—The Standard Oil Co. of California, in a statement today, said it has "had no trade nor has any now with Italy nor Ethiopia."

Refuting rumors of oil shipments to the belligerent nations, the company presented facts and figures of the United States Department of Commerce, to show that 92 3/4 per cent of Italy's oil requirements come from elsewhere, leaving only 6.85 per cent importation from the United States.

Italy's chief source of supply is Roumania, the report shows, with Persia and Russia as second and third. These sources are all nearer at hand and therefore more economical, than the American sources it was pointed out.

Only 2.1 per cent of America's total exports of oil and oil products go to Italy the report said.

AROUND CITY HALL

Council will convene tomorrow but the budget will not come up for adoption until Monday. The measure by that time will have been on display 20 days. According to the state law the appropriation bill must be displayed for 20 days before it may be passed.

Chief of Police John F. Haven's request to motorists to not drink and drive on Christmas eve apparently had some effect. Not one driver was arrested December 24 for having driven while drunk.

Although streets are covered with snow Glenn R. Throop is one who is thinking of good weather and hoping that long before spring approval will have been given by the WPA for paving of two dozen streets here.

HOLIDAY MARRED BY VIOLENT DEATHS

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 26.—Violent death came to three persons here over Christmas.

Mrs. Ethel Wright, 41, was fatally hurt by an automobile while crossing the street last night. At midnight, Steven Hagerty, 25, was killed and five persons were hurt when a hit-skip truck collided with Hagerty's automobile.

George Schrengelst, 36, was fatally shot during an argument at his home. Police have the name of the alleged slayer.

Rocco Yawn, 27, was wounded in the hand by his 2 1/2-year-old son, John. Yawn told police he had given the boy a toy gun for Christmas.

Advances TodayTraders In Optimistic
Frame Of Mind After Holiday Period

By LESLIE GOULD

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—With traders returning from the holiday in an optimistic frame of mind, the stock market advanced today.

The market opened strong under the lead of the aviation and rubber shares, paused to absorb some profit-taking and then went ahead again with utility issues joining in the leadership.

American Telephone &amp; Telegraph was one of the most active blue chips with a gain of 1/4 point. Allied Chemical was up fractionally while DuPont and American Can were unchanged.

With electric output surging above the 2-billion kilowatt hour mark for the first time in the industry's history, utility stocks were bought aggressively with North American, Water Works, Columbia Gas and Consolidated Gas all spurring a point or more.

Three new highs were set in the aviation list by Douglas, which was up more than 2 points, Boeing and United Aircraft.

Anaconda was up a good-sized fraction but other metal shares were quiet.

Rubber shares moved ahead briskly with Goodyear, Goodrich and U. S. Rubber scoring good gains. With persistent profit-taking from the sharp rise of the last three market days in evidence, Chrysler was a soft spot, opening off a point, recovering most of this loss and then slipping off again.

Bonds were irregularly higher. Cotton was steady. Wheat was higher. Gold currencies were firmer.

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 26.—Ellwood City High Wolverines will play their last pre-season game tomorrow night at Lincoln gym when the strong Evans City high quintet will invade this city.

The Butler county team has exhibited its ability against some first class opposition. The locals will be given a real test. In order to find out how their cage team would act under fire Coaches Schill and Newton took ten boys to Sharon High where a practice game was played last Tuesday morning. The locals came out the victors by a comfortable margin and received high praise from the Sharon high coach who stated that Ellwood has two well balanced teams.

Young People's Council Sings
Carols Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 26.—Old-time singing of Christmas carols was in evidence Christmas eve when the Young People's District Council went about the city.

All had gathered at the First Presbyterian church from where they went to sing the well known Christmas carols. They then came back to the church for a social time and refreshments.

Dinner Honors
37th Anniversary

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 26.—Tuesday, December 24, was a red-letter day in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McCaslin of Ellport for on that day they celebrated the happy occasion of their 37th wedding anniversary.

Their daughter, Mrs. Kenneth McConahy, entertained at a family dinner at her home at Ellport at 6 o'clock. Covers were arranged for members of the immediate family, a beautifully appointed table featuring yuletide appointments. The evening hours were passed in a pleasantly informal manner with a variety of diversions holding the attention of everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. McCaslin were the recipient of an array of very nice and useful gifts in memory of the occasion.

Mrs. Lora Eady
Dies Wednesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 26.—Mrs. Lora Jane Eady, 60, passed away Christmas morning at 7:30 at her home on Lawrence avenue following a short illness.

The deceased is survived by three sons, William, Linwood and Lawrence; one daughter, Mrs. Rocco Speaks; one brother, Fred Mauney; and two sisters, Lou Mauney and Mrs. Elizabeth Barnhart of Newark, N. J.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday from the Trinity A. M. E. church with the pastor, the Rev. Clark, officiating. Interment will be made in the Locust Grove cemetery.

FEWER CULLS FOUND IN POULTRY PROJECT

HARRISBURG, Dec. 26.—More than 217,900 laying hens have been inspected to December 1 this year in the connection with the poultry standardization work conducted by the bureau of markets, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. Of these hens, 178,710 were approved and 39,231 or 13.4 per cent were culled. This is the lowest percentage of culled since the poultry project was started in 1924, indicating improvement in the general quality of hens in flocks co-operating with the department.

The total number of hens inspected during the 11-month period exceeds the total for all of 1934 by 7,000.

"Dizzy" Dean Will Stick For $27,000

(International News Service)

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 26.—Regardless of whether the St. Louis Cardinals meet his requested pay increase of $7,000 "Dizzy" Dean doesn't intend to accompany his teammates to Cuba.

"No, sir," the great one said. "Once is enough," and he related his physical and mental state during his previous voyage through the Florida straits.

"Did I win 28 games last year and 30 the year before?" he asked. "Has any other pitcher in the National league won as many games in two seasons in recent years?"

"Sure, I'm worth $27,000 a year and I want a $7,000 pay increase," he added.

The twirler and his wife were here today, motoring in last night from their winter home at Bradenton to attend the opening of the Sulphur Springs dog track.

Upjohn Heir Has Failed To Return
To Michigan Home

(International News Service)

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Dec. 26.—Although Allen Upjohn, 19-year-old heir to the Upjohn drug fortune, failed to return home for Christmas as his father had hoped, the elder Upjohn today still clung to the belief his son was safe.

"He'll return when his money runs out," Dr. Laurence Upjohn said, continuing to discount fears of foul play.

Young Upjohn, who disappeared from his classes at Kalamazoo college early this month, was reported to have taken with him at least a thousand dollars. He was believed to have taken a plane for the south from Newark, N. J.

Coroner's Jury
Delays Report
On Bus TragedyBelieve Mechanical Failure
Beyond Human Control
Caused 14 To Die

(International News Service)

HOPEWELL, Va., Dec. 26.—Mechanical failure or circumstances beyond human control stood out as logical possible causes for the bus crash horror which took 14 lives last Sunday as a coroner's inquest into the catastrophe adjourned today. The case was taken under advisement and a report promised within two days.

Thomas J. Blankenship, acting coroner, who conducted the inquest, clearly defined the purpose of the inquiry to be simply determination of the cause of death, and not to attempt to place liability for the accident.

The testimony of two witnesses led to the belief that either failure of the air brakes of the Atlantic Greyhound bus which plunged from the open drawbridge which crosses the Appomattox river here or an ungovernable happening—probably skidding—were responsible for the inability of the driver to stop the vehicle before it surged off the bridge.

STATE HAS BIG
LUMBER MARKET

HARRISBURG, Dec. 26.—Sawed lumber is the largest single item of wood consumption in Pennsylvania, and fuelwood stands second, according to tabulations made by the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters.

Sawed lumber and boards, to the amount of over two billion board feet, are used in Pennsylvania annually. This is 230 board feet for each and every citizen, and is equivalent to about 2,500,000 cords, or an annual wood growth of approximately five million acres of forest land. Due to the small size of forest area now prevailing in Pennsylvania for timber production, the great majority of the lumber used in the state is imported.

FALL INJURIES FATAL

Great Japanese House Rising From Financial Wreck

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—A new Japanese financial empire already is beginning to rise from the ruins of the great house of Suzuki, once the largest commercial firm in the Orient, which collapsed with a loss of $250,000,000 a few years ago.

Hikoji Yanagida made this statement as he left the United States for Japan after 11 years of study in this country.

Young Yanagida is the son of the late Fujimatsu Yanagida, manager of Suzuki & Co., when the firm was at the peak of its career as the Orient's foremost financiers of shipping companies, trading companies and banking houses. Soon after his arrival at his old home at Kobe he is to be married to Miss Hikoji Suzuki, granddaughter of Yone Suzuki, the 85-year-old "empress" of the old regime.

During his 11 years in the United States, Yanagida studied at the University of Indiana, spent much time in Washington and completed his work at the University of Chicago.

Two High Schools Have Many Pupils

Philadelphia High Schools Have More Pupils Than Many Big Colleges

HARRISBURG, Dec. 26.—Only three universities in Pennsylvania have a student enrollment exceeding that of the state's largest high school, Dr. Lester K. Ade, superintendent of Public Instruction, announced today.

The West Philadelphia High School, Philadelphia, where Dr. Walter Roberts is principal, had a student enrollment of 5272 for the year 1934-35. This is about 800 more students than the second largest high school in Pennsylvania, the Olney High School, also in Philadelphia, where there were 4465 students. The two schools together have a total enrollment of 9727 pupils.

The University of Pennsylvania, University of Pittsburgh, and Temple University have total undergraduate enrollments of 6000 or more full time students, making them only slightly larger than the West Philadelphia High School.

PITTSBURGH, Dec.—Gay singing and merry laughter of Christmas eve revelry were hushed here today as two men lay dead, victims of an automobile accident in which four other persons were seriously injured.

The dead: William M. Bartel, 35, Duquesne, and Paul Hill, 26, of Monongahela City.

The injured: Lula Drake, 20, Clairton; Ruth Drake, 28, her sister; Vera Wilt, 23, McKeesport, and Edgar Morgan, 33, Duquesne.

Leaving a Homestead night club around 4 a. m., the celebrants in an automobile driven by Bartel, side-swiped a street car and were hurled across the road in a mass of wreckage.

Hospital attaches reported this morning that the injured were in "fair" condition.
